Spl Parliament session gambit

To be held from Sept 18 to 22, speculation on advancing polls, simultaneous elections bill

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday sprang a surprise by announcing a special session of Parliament from September 18-22, reviving speculation of early Lok Sabha elections.

The special session will be held about one-and-a-half months before the winter session of Parliament is due, which usually is in November.

Union Parliamentary minister Pralhad Joshi made the announcement through a post on X, adding the special session would have five sittings.

It will be the first such special session ever since Narendra Modi became prime minister in 2014. Both Houses of Parliament would meet separately for five full days. On June 30, 2017, the government had convened a special joint sitting of Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha to mark the midnight rollout of the GST regime.

A well placed source said the government will go into poll mode after the special session, both for the upcoming state elections and the 2024 general elections. The government could also try to test the Opposition on the principle of one nation, one election (ONOE) by introducing a bill on it during the special session.

Speculation is also rife that the Modi government would bring the women's reservation bill and the Uniform Civil Code bill, in addition to the ONOE bill. "Since all of these bills are associated with the BJP's poll agenda, the government may introduce them to reaffirm to its voters the party's commitment to its poll planks," said a BJP office bearer.

With the G20 summit ending on September 10, the special session is also expected to discuss its outcome and dedicate it to the nation.

The dates for the special session coincide with the upcoming Ganpati festival, which is celebrated in a big way in Maharashtra and other states. Some Opposition MPs urged the government to reconsider the schedule.

Congress leader Jairam Ramesh alleged that the special session was aimed at managing "the news cycle" and countering the news about the ongoing meeting of INDIA.

Ready for J&K poll, up to EC to decide schedule, says govt

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday told the Supreme Court that it is ready to hold elections in Jammu and Kashmir once the Election Commission of India decides the dates. However, it did not give a timeframe on restoring statehood to J&K, though it reiterated that its current status as a Union Territoty was temporary.

Updation of the voters' list is almost complete, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta informed a Constitution bench led by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud. As to when elections would be held, it for the State Election Commission and the Election Commission of India to decide after considering the overall situation, he said.

Elections at three levels are due — panchayat, municipality and the legislative Assembly.

"As far as statehood is concerned, Union Territory is a temporary phenomenon," Mehta said. "We are dealing with extraordinary situation. State will have to be infused with several things so that it becomes a state so to say," he added.

Highlighting the positives post revoking Article 370, Mehta said infiltration, law and order issues, stone pelting, hartals have all come down. The Centre has take various steps to boost investments in the area and several projects have come up, he pointed out.

However, senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for the petitioners, alleged that the Centre is trying to project an image of normalcy in J&K while house arrest and Internet shutdown are on in the Union Territory.

GDP grows by 7.8% in first quarter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

INDIA'S GDP grew at 7.8% in the first quarter of the current fiscal, making it one of the fastest growing economies in April-June, surpassing China's 6.3%. However, the growth rate is less than RBI's estimate of 8% and the projections made by SBI (8.2%). The GDP in the previous quarter (January-March) grew at 6.1%, while in the first quarter of last year, it grew at 13.1%.

"India's economy in Q1 grew at the fastest pace in a year, on the shoulders of a boost in capital expenditure both at Central and state levels, along with stronger consumption demand, especially in rural areas, and improved performance in the services sector," Chief Economic Adviser V Anantha Nageswaran said. He added that the country would grow at 6.5% in the current year in spite of deficient monsoon.

Sharpshooter injured in jumbo attack dies in hosp

BR UDAYA KUMAR @ Hassan

A 64-year-old sharpshooter, who suffered serious injuries when an elephant attacked him in a forest at Alur in Hassan district on Thursday, died at HIMS Hospital.

The deceased Venkatesh was summoned by the forest department to tranquilise Bheema, an elephant, who suffered injuries in a tussle with another tusker in July. Veterinarians treated Bheema two days ago and released him in the forest. As Bheema needed further treatment, the forest officials sought the assistance of Venkatesh for tranquilisation after obtaining permission for the same from the Principal Chief Conservator of Forests.

During the operation, Bheema, who was darted, suddenly turned around and attacked Venkatesh. The sharpshooter was standing 20ft away from the elephant, according to a forest official.

Though Venkatesh was rushed to HIMS Hospital, he succumbed to injuries there around 2 pm.

Venkatesh, who had tranquilised over 50 rogue elephants and other wild animals in Karnataka and neighbouring states in his 25-year career, worked as a daily wager with the forest department. P5

Cong leader assaults official, booked

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kalaburagi

A local Congress leader assaulted an health inspector of Kalaburagi Mahanagara Palike (KMF) and threatened to kidnap his children on Wednesday for the delay in Palike hiring his vehicle.

An FIR has been filed against the leader and his associate in this connection.

Confirming the assault, Palike Commissioner Bhuvanesh Patil told reporters on Thursday that Congress leader Avinash Bhaskar and his associate Raju went to the Palike office and started arguing with health inspector Dhanashetty over the matter.

Avinash and Raju dragged Dhanashetty to a room and assaulted him. This happened in the presence of some employees of the Palike. Avinash and Raju were drunk, according to the employees.

Dhanashetty and his colleagues, who went to Bramhapur police station in the evening to file a complaint, returned home after seeing a big group of supporters of Avinash there. P4

Police include section 304A in FIR

Negligence charge to be added; Engineers to be summoned

BBMP FIRE ACCIDENT CASE

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the death of Chief Engineer of BBMP Quality Assurance Lab, CM Shivakumar, Halasuru Gate police which had earlier registered a case under relevant IPC sections, added Section 304A as well. Under this section, the guilty can face imprisonment for up to two years or a fine, or both.

Earlier, based on a complaint from Engineer-In-Chief BS Prahalad, an FIR was registered at Halasuru Gate police station on August 12, and police had detained two assistant executive engineers, Anand and Swamy, and Group D employee Suresh. They were questioned for 10 hours as they were working on the ground floor where the fire first broke out, and had run out. The three officials were arrested and released on station bail the same day.

Police had filed an FIR under Section 337 (Causing hurt by act endangering life or personal safety of others), IPC 338 (Causing grievous hurt by act endangering life or personal safety of others) and following the death of Shivakumar, added Section 304A (Causing death by negligence).

"After the postmortem, we added Section 304. Once we begin the probe, we will summon all BBMP officials concerned for further questioning," said a senior police official.

He added that so far, no person had been termed accused. If investigation reveals that the fire and death was caused by negligence of any one particular person, that person will be charged and the report sent to court.

Jyothi showing improvement, doctors assured

Meanwhile, after the death of BBMP Chief Engineer CM Shivakumar, on Wednesday, doctors have assured that the other critical patient Jyothi (26), an operator who was shifted to a private hospital along with him, is stable now and showing signs of improvement. Both of them suffered injuries in the fire incident which occurred at the BBMP quality control room on August 11. She suffered 28 per cent burns and the chemical/smoke inhalation led to acute respiratory distress syndrome (ARDS). Sources also said that she is currently undergoing skin grafting procedures.

Tech inquiry report to be delayed

Submission of the report by the Technical Inquiry Committee set up by BBMP to probe the Quality Assurance Lab fire accident, will be delayed by a fortnight. According to the head of the probe committee BS Prahalad, the report was to be submitted by August 31. Prahalad told TNIE, "Due to some procedural delays and other responsibilities in BBMP, the report could not be submitted on time. Now, the internal probe report will be submitted to BBMP chief commissioner within a fortnight." Another officer said the government, local bodies and panchayats were busy organising the government's Gruhalakshmi scheme, and 100 days of the Congress government. According to sources, the internal probe will revolve around what led to the fire accident on August 11, the chemicals stored and tests carried out at the lab.

Govt revises sports quota rules for CET

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Examinations Authority (KEA) on Thursday announced a revision in sports quota rules for admissions to professional courses through the Common Entrance Test (CET) for the academic year 2024-2025. As per the new rules, only students who have officially represented the State or Nation will be considered in the quota. It also mentions that the students should have participated in three consecutive years including the one in which they will appear for the CET exam.

Earlier, the Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports (DYES) had submitted a report on the revised quota, which was finalised in a meeting with Higher Education Minister MC Sudhakar, department officials and other stakeholders.

Currently, the sports quota for CET is considered from Class 8-12. Before the meeting, Sudhakar and Medical Education Minister Sharan Prakash Patil interacted with the students who had come for CET counselling at the centre. It was suggested that the counselling for selection of courses and colleges should be conducted in colleges from next academic year.

The minister also approved a cost of Rs 33 crore for the renewal of the KEA building.

Crucial load tests completed for Kengeri-Challaghatta stretch

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE crucial five-day test to check the bearing capacity of the steel girder erected above the NICE road on the Kengeri-Challaghatta stretch is all set to be completed on Friday. The 56-metre span of the girder was being tested using a total of 387 tonnes of weight on two separate trains since Monday.

With this critical test, all civil works have been completed on this 1.6 km stretch, Assistant Engineer, Challaghatta station, M Rajesh told TNIE.

It will be thrown open to the public along with the KR Pura-Baiyappanahalli stretch in September. The Commissioner of Metro Rail Safety is expected to inspect both stretches by mid September.

Specifying details on the tests which began on August 28, Rajesh said the test was done in three stages with two separate trains. "In the first stage, we placed 2,827 sand bags between the tracks and the plinth beam. Each of these bags weighed 30 kg. We also stationed empty trains and observed it for 6 hours. In the second stage, three coaches of each train were stationed, and each coach had 621 sand bags placed in them total weight of 18.6 tonnes in each coach. This was being observed for 24 hours." So, a total of 387 tonnes has been tested on the girder's span, which includes the bags under the train, inside it and also the weight of three coaches in each train, he elaborated.

The readings, technically known as 'Deflection Readings' were noted. "The tests have been successful so far. We then reversed the whole process. The final 24-hour observation of the test is in progress, and will be completed on Friday," the engineer added.

International flights from T2 will begin on Sept 12: BIAL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

INTERNATIONAL flights will begin operations at Terminal 2 of Kempegowda International Airport from September 12, the airport operator announced late Thursday night. The proposed launch on August 31 was abruptly postponed at the last minute.

Singapore Airlines will operate the first flight (SQ 508) to arrive at the new terminal from Singapore at 10.55 am.

An official statement from airport operator, Bangalore International Airport Limited (BIAL), said, "After consultation with regulatory authorities and other stakeholders, BIAL is pleased to announce the commencement of International operations at BLR Airport's Terminal 2 on 12th September 2023, from 10.45 am onwards. This decision has been taken after careful evaluation and consideration of various factors, including regulatory compliance, operational efficiency, and passenger convenience."

Meanwhile, confusion prevailed among flyers as airlines showed international departures and arrivals at T2 while Bengaluru airport website was showing departures and arrivals on T1.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

1st September : The universe is a weird old place, that's for sure. I've told you before that every cell, atom and molecule in your body was once inside the Sun. Not only that but they have all passed through at least two previous stars. And, before that, we were all part of a universe the size of a grapefruit which existed before the big-bang. When mystics say that we are all star-dust, they're not joking!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon's emotional presence in your chart makes you simultaneously more confident and sensitive. The message is that you can be increasingly open about your feelings, while being as sympathetic as you can to others' emotions. It's all a matter of striking the right balance.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Jupiter, planet of optimism, urges you to adopt a creative solution to all current questions. However, for at least the next four weeks, you might do best to keep certain sensitive thoughts to yourself. You'll probably have to make some very finely-balanced judgements.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Now you can begin to involve other people in your plans, but do take it easy. The last thing you should do is insist that everyone does as you say, so it's much better to listen carefully, and then incorporate all good advice into your schemes.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
All ambitious individuals should have a field-day. If you're at work, have one last stab at a professional coup, but don't worry if you don't achieve your aims this time around. There'll be other chances later. Perhaps you can take this opportunity to smarten up your act.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Think about partners before you think about yourself, for this is a fine time to let others take the initiative. You should realise that it may in fact be good for you to do what you're told! In other words, you should probably focus on your responsibilities, not your rights.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The entire situation is still looking slightly uncertain, but that doesn't mean that you're going to lose out. Far from it. You should know by now that if you trust one special partner, they'll come up with the goods in the end. You might have a long wait, though.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Mercury moves erratically through your chart, which means that if partners don't say things just once, they certainly won't say them more than twice. You'd better be on the ball if you want to keep up! After all, you might not get a second chance, even if you ask for one.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Extra hard work ahead seems to be the main planetary message. Even if you're determined to take time off, the best pursuits should be those which keep you most active. After all, idle hands seek out mischief, as the old saying goes. Work off all that excess energy!

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The number of planets occupying the base of your solar chart makes it clear that, in the last resort, you can only do what you want. However, an inner instinct might suggest that there is something wrong with being 'selfish', and the result could be a missed opportunity.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There is still a great deal to be said for coming clean at home and making a complete break with the past. However, all that is required right now is a change of attitude, so you can probably prevaricate over practical changes for another few weeks at least.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Mars' business-like relationship with Saturn creates one of those difficult relationships that favours all good, hard-working individuals and punishes all those who are lazy and incompetent. It's as if the great celestial schoolmaster is waving his stick at you!

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You do seem to be in a rather serious mood, but certain fears and worries should be illusory. Turn your attention to business affairs and do whatever you can to get some order into financial matters. Perhaps you should check all overdue paperwork as well.

Transport dept puts lump sum tax collection on hold

Lifetime tax payment back to old system, relief for truckers; protesters park over 100 vehicles along KH Road

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Federation of Karnataka State Lorry Owners and Agents' Association called off its agitation to block national highways on Friday, after transport department officials announced on Thursday that lifetime tax would be collected every quarter till December 1, as was done earlier.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah had, in the state budget, announced that all goods vehicles will have to pay one-time tax.

Agitated by this, lorry owners and agents had staged a protest on Thursday. In the morning, transport officials were in for a shock as the entire stretch next to their head office on KH Road was blocked by over 100 goods vehicles. Traffic police had to divert vehicles on the stretch and surrounding roads to avoid traffic congestion.

"After day-long back-to-back meetings, transport officials assured us on Thursday night that they would collect tax every quarter till December 31, and then take a call," Federation president Shanmugappa said. Members of the Federation said they pay lifetime tax of approximately Rs 2,500 every quarter for old vehicles, but under the new system, they were asked to pay up to Rs 1 lakh in one go, with the amount based on class of vehicle.

"The Union government wants vehicles which have completed 15 years on road to be scrapped. However, the state transport department wishes to collect lifetime tax of more than Rs 1 lakh in one go for vehicles that are in their fourteenth year. A goods vehicle owner who was paying Rs 8,000 per year (Rs 2,000/quarter) is asked to pay Rs 80,000. How justifiable is this move? Why would anyone pay such a hefty amount for a vehicle that will be scrapped in 2-3 years? We want the transport department to collect lifetime taxes every quarter only," said Shanmugappa.

He alleged that the lifetime tax move was to mop up money for the Congress guarantee schemes, and added that goods vehicle operators are already reeling under debt due to the Covid lockdown, and this additional burden will push them to the brink.

Kid sends bomb threat to KIA, parent apologises

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

THIS incident should serve as a warning for all parents who hand over mobile phones to their children to keep them occupied. At 11.43am on Monday, a young boy sent off a WhatsApp message to the customer engagement centre of Kempegowda International Airport on their mobile number, which read, "I am terrst bomb thr airport 7pm hahahaha."

Within a few minutes, there was another message, "Pls excuse me, my son sent the message." Both the threat and clarification were sent within seven minutes.

Taking the incident seriously, KIA terminal manager Mohammed Zahir filed a complaint with BIAL police on Tuesday afternoon. Police registered an FIR and found that the mobile user was from a different state. A case under 'criminal intimidation by anonymous communication and public mischief' was registered against the suspects.

"We found that the message had been sent from West Bengal. No arrests have been made yet. It is not clear if the same person is behind both the messages, or if it is a parent and son. We've got the address of the person in whose name the SIM card was issued. It is not clear if the parent is a father or mother. Action will be taken against the suspects," said an officer who is part of investigations.

When TNIE contacted the number from which the threat message was sent, the person from Howrah texted, "I am a simple person and not a criminal, but some unexpected thing happened from my phone or may be with my number, it's got misused. I have a severe anxiety issue and this matter totally triggered my nervous breakdown. I am very much depressed now regarding this matter and also having some phone issues. I am hoping that this kind of thing will not repeat again in future from my side."

BIAL police are investigating further.

Man falls off 4th floor, dies, first wife accuses second of killing him

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE first wife of a 63-year-old realtor, who died after falling from the fourth floor of a residential complex in MPL Layout in Marathahalli Thursday morning, filed a complaint accusing the second wife of murdering him for property based on which Annapoorneshwari Nagar Police have filed a murder case.

The victim, Maranjinappa, who a leader of a political party, was with his second wife at the time of the incident. He was reportedly drunk before he fell down.

Geetha, his second wife, who has a property dispute which the first wife, Umadevi, shifted him to a nearby hospital where he succumbed to injuries. Maranjinappa's friend informed Umadevi of the incident.

When she went to the hospital, she stated in her complaint that there were bite marks on the body and his leg was broken. She accused Geetha of assaulting her husband and pushing him off the fourth floor.

The victim used to stay with his first wife and children in Bagalakunte, but would sometimes visit his second wife at her house in Annapoorneshwari Nagar. Umadevi stated that her husband was having an extramarital affair with Geetha for the last four years. The postmortem report is awaited. Police are also checking the CCTVs footage.

Gunman held for opening fire on colleague

BENGALURU: A 39-year-old private gunman of a businessman has been arrested by the Tilaknagar police for reportedly opening fire at his colleague. The incident occurred on the midnight of August 26. The accused has been identified as Prashanth, an ex-serviceman, who allegedly attacked his colleague PP Anil Kumar with a gun. Kumar (48), who is also an ex-serviceman, fortunately escaped unharmed with the shot misfiring. Kumar has filed a police complaint. The incident took place when both of them, along with a friend, were drinking at the home provided by their employer, Deepak Gowda, in Jayanagar. The accused, while answering his wife's phone call, started shouting at her. Kumar asked him to lower his voice. Enraged by this, he allegedly tried to shoot Kumar. The police have recovered the licensed gun from the accused. ENS

SC advocate's lecture held amid opposition

BENGALURU: Amid opposition from a lawyers' forum, Supreme Court Advocate J Sai Deepak delivered the lecture on 'Uniform Civil Code: Pros and Cons' organised by the Karnataka State Bar Council here on Thursday. All-India Lawyers' Association for Justice (AILAJ) had written to the bar council expressing serious concerns and shock over the council, "whose duty it is to promote constitutional values" giving a platform to an individual who discredits Constitutional principles and openly speaks the language of rabid hatred against Muslims, Christians, and other minorities in India." The lecture was held at NGO Hall in Cubbon Park as per the schedule. Hundreds of people, mostly law students, attended the event. To avert any untoward incident, a tight police security arrangement was made at the venue. ENS

Dakshina Kannada MP Nalin Kumar Kateel lashed out at the State Government for releasing Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu at a time when Karnataka farmers are reeling under water scarcityt. "There are frequent power cuts which are also affecting the farmers. On the pretext of Gruha Jyothi, there are load-shedding. Along with zero bill, there is also zero power supply," he alleged

WITH Tamil Nadu's plea for release of 24,000 cusecs of water coming up for hearing before a three-judge bench in the Supreme Court on Friday, Karnataka Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, who also holds the water resources portfolio, on Thursday said the state has complied with the directive to release water to the neighbouring state, and will explain the ground reality in the Cauvery basin to the Supreme Court.

"Safeguarding the interest of Karnataka farmers is our first commitment. The Supreme Court hearing is tomorrow and there is a possibility the trial may be postponed. We will discuss with our legal team about filing an appeal in the Supreme Court," said Shivakumar.

Speaking to the media after holding a meeting with irrigation department officials and the legal team in New Delhi, Shivakumar said the state will invite members of the Cauvery Water Regulation Committee (CWRC) and Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) to visit the state's reservoirs for first-hand information about the situation, within 15 days. The CWRC had directed Karnataka to release 5,000 cusecs of water per day for 15 days, from August 29 to September 12.

"It may appear as if there is water (in reservoirs) but let them come and see the situation, we cannot conceal it," he suggested. "If there was adequate rainfall, there would be no objection to releasing water. We have respecting such decisions in the past. We have invited CWMA officials to visit our dams and see the severity of the water problem and hope the authorities safeguard the interest of the state's farmers." "All calculations on water released to Tamil Nadu will be recorded at Biligundlu, and the water takes 4-5 days to reach there. Our counsels will present all this in their argument," he informed.

Shivakumar said the state would also appeal before the SC, as it can raise its voice for its concerns, but has no power to question the utilisation of Tamil Nadu's share of water and its crop pattern. Karnataka's lawyers have been arguing the case competently, and are prepared for Friday's hearing, but it could be deferred by 2-3 days, he added.

Advocate-General Shashi Kiran Shetty, counsel in the SC Mohan Katarki, Additional Chief Secretary Rakesh Singh and Shivakumar's technical adviser Jayaprakash were present. The minister said he would consult senior SC lawyer Shyam Divan who is representing the state.

Govt may declare some taluks drought-hit on Sept 4, says minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AGRICULTURE Minister N Chaluvarayaswamy on Thursday said that a Cabinet sub-committee meeting on drought-related issues on September 4 is likely to take a decision on declaring certain taluks in Karnataka drought-hit.

The meeting will be chaired by Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda.

"In 125 taluks, the soil has lost moisture. A crop-damage survey was carried out and the report was submitted on August 31. We have to now see how many taluks can be declared drought-hit. As of now, there is no drinking water crisis," he said during an interaction with journalists at the Press Club in Bengaluru. He said the norms laid down by the Centre and State will be considered before declaring the taluks drought-hit.

He said over 16 lakh farmers have been enrolled for crop insurance schemes and as a preventive measure, the first instalment will be released to 35,000 farmers. "But if a taluk is declared drought-hit, then all the farmers there will get the compensation," he explained. Farmers have paid only 2% of the premium estimated at Rs 50 crore against the crop insurance as the rest of it (to the tune of 2,500 crore) was paid by the Union and State governments, he added.

He said action has been taken against those selling seeds and fertilizers of poor quality to farmers. "There is no shortage of fertilisers and seeds in Karnataka," he added.

On field trial of GM mustard, he clarified that Karnataka will not go for it. "Trial of nano urea and nano DAP fertilizer is underway and its impact will be known only after two crops are raised," he said.

Chaluvarayaswamy asserted that the implementation of the guarantee schemes by the Congress government has nothing to do with shortage of agriculture labourers. "No study has proved this... There might be some cases, but it is negligible. Do you think certain sections of people should permanently work in the fields as labourers?" he said.

Farmers protest against the release of water to Tamil Nadu, in Srirangapatna in Mandya district on Thursday | EXPRESS

BOMMAI URGES GOVT TO STOP RELEASING WATER

BENGALURU: Former CM and senior BJP leader Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday urged the Karnataka government to stop releasing Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu and file an appeal in the Supreme Court. Bommai said that from the beginning, Karnataka government erred in the Cauvery issue. Bommai said that the government released 10,000 cusecs for 15 days as directed by the Cauvery Water Management Authority, but did not take up a legal fight against it. He said the government is holding consultations with the legal experts after releasing 5000 cusecs each day to Tamil Nadu. The government should immediately stop releasing water as there is no point in taking up a legal fight and releasing water, Bommai said. ENS

Protests in Cauvery heartland over water release to TN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

WITH Karnataka releasing water to Tamil Nadu complying with the directives of the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA), protests have erupted in the Cauvery heartland in Karnataka.

The farmers took to the streets against the release of 5,000 cusecs of water to the neighbouring district across Mandya and also started an indefinite stir at the KRS reservoir. The farmers also staged 'shirtless' protests raising slogans against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Deputy CM DK Shivakumar (who also holds the water resources portfolio) and Mandya district and Agriculture Minister N Chaluvarayaswamy.

In Mandya, farmers along with political leaders, Kannada activists and members of various Dalit organisations staged a protest in front of the Sir M Visvesvaraya statue and lashed out at the Karnataka government for releasing water and falling prey to TN's pressure tactics. They urged the government to immediately stop releasing water as the water level in KRS has dipped from 113ft to 110ft as against the maximum 124ft. They feared there would be water shortage in Bengaluru, Mysuru, Mandya and other towns in the Cauvery basin in Karnataka.

Raitha Hitha Rakshana Samiti vice-president Athmananda said that the State Government should have briefed the Supreme Court and the authorities concerned on the ground situation instead of releasing water. The farmers alleged that the Centre has shown a step-motherly treatment towards Karnataka and failed to arrive at a distress formula. The farmers hit out at the Tamil Nadu government for opposing the Mekedatu balancing reservoir project and for expanding its area of cultivation in the delta region.

Activists of Jai Karnataka blocked vehicular traffic in Mandya. Raitha Hitha Rakshana Samiti leaders stopped the police personnel from arresting the activists for blocking the highway.

In Srirangapatna, the farmers took out a 'shirtless' protest. The farmers, led by K S Nanjunde Gowda and Krishna Gowda, got into the river near the bathing ghat at Srirangapatna. They alleged that the Karnataka government failed in its duty to handle the drought-like situation in the Cauvery basin. The protesting farmers formed a human chain at Ambedkar Circle and alleged that DK Shivakumar had failed miserably to fight for Karnataka. They also hit out at Siddaramaiah for launching the Gruha Lakshmi scheme from Mysuru at a time when the farmers are left in the lurch owing to the release of water.

RENUKA MEETS AGRI MINISTER, SETS OFF MORE SPECULATION

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

Former minister and BJP leader MP Renukacharya, aide of former chief minister B S Yediyurappa, on Thursday called on Agriculture Minister N Chaluvarayaswamy, amid speculation that the former was joining the Congress party ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

With the minister busy at a scheduled interaction with reporters at Press Club of Bengaluru (PCB), Renukacharya waited for over an hour to meet him. The duo held discussions privately for some time, amid media glare. But they claimed that since they were friends for several years, it had nothing to do with 'Operation Hasta'.

A week ago, Renukacharya had called on Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda, which he had sought to link with the development of Honnali constituency, from where he lost this time. He claimed he is an aspirant for the Lok Sabha ticket from Davanagere constituency.

The former MLA was recently issued a show cause notice by the BJP for speaking against the party, after he alleged that Yediyurappa and his son, Shikaripura MLA BY Vijayendra, had been ignored by party leaders. He is also said to have skipped a meeting called by National General Secretary (Organisation) B L Santhosh at the party office here on Thursday.

Siddu: Don't elect those who oppose Constitution

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Thursday asked people not to vote for those who are against the Constitution.

The CM advised people not to spoil the future of their children by giving power to such forces.

He was speaking at the D Devaraj Urs Jayantotsava organised by the Karnataka State Dalit Sangharsh Samiti in Bengaluru.

He said that if Dr BR Ambedkar had not been the chairman of the Constitution Drafting Committee, then India would not have had such a meaningful Constitution.

Devaraj Urs worked hard to effectively implement the aspirations of Dr Ambedkar and the Constitution through his position as CM, he added..

Urs' "Tiller is the owner of the land" has become "Rich is the owner of the land" under BJP rule. "This is why I said if power is given to people who oppose the Constitution, social justice will be undermined," he said.

'SCSP/TSP funds not utilised for guarantees'

CM also slammed the BJP for alleging that SCSP/TSP funds are being used for the five guarantees.

Siddaramaiah said the guarantees will empower the lives of the poor and the middle class. "Don't believe it, look at the documents and teach the BJP a lesson," the chief minister said.

FIR registered: K'buragi police commissioner

ON Thursday morning, the Palike employees and officers staged a protest in front of their office against the assault on their colleague and demanded that the commissioner initiate police action on the accused. They also sought protection to Dhanashetty. The commissioner said that he spoke to senior police officers and they sent an inspector to his office where Dhanashetty filed a complaint against Avinash and Raju. Kalaburagi Police Commissioner R Chetan told TNIE that an FIR against Avinash and Raju has been registered.

District Congress president Jagadev Guttedar, who spoke to TNIE, admitted that Avinash is a Congress worker.

CM, seer visit HDK, JDS leaders throng hospital

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah and ministers N Chaluvarayaswamy and Shivaraj Tangadagi on Thursday visited former CM H D Kumaraswamy, who was admitted to Apollo Hospital in Jayanagar, Bengaluru, following a "mild stroke" on Wednesday morning. They enquiring about his health and wished him well.

Siddaramaiah, who was in Mysuru when Kumaraswamy took ill, had been closely monitoring the JDS leader's health condition. He returned from Mysuru late Wednesday night and visited hospital after Kumaraswamy was shifted from the ICU to the ward.

Thursday saw a non-stop flow of visitors, and many JDS MLAs, MLCs and others were told not to disturb him. Kumaraswamy's mother Chennamma visited him, while father H D Deve Gowda spoke to him on phone. Wife Anita, son and actor Nikhil Kumar, daughter-in-law Revati and two-year-old grandson Aviyandev were at the hospital throughout the day.

Nikhil, who was visiting Dubai in connection with a film location, returned to Bengaluru in the early hours of Thursday. It was little Aviyandev's presence that seemed to improve the health condition of Kumaraswamy, who enjoyed the toddler's antics.

Adichunchanagiri pontiff Nirmalananda Swamy also visited Kumaraswamy. JDS leaders and close aides Bandeppa Kashempur and Sa Ra Mahesh, besides MLAs Sharangouda Kandakur and Ravindra Srikantaiah were seen at the hospital.

Sources said Kumaraswamy had told visitors his speech became slurred and his limbs heavy, and it was the decision to seek medical help and timely intervention that helped. They said his speech was no longer slurred.

Kumaraswamy's close associates said the family wished that he should rest in hospital for a few days and not be discharged in a hurry. Nikhil on Thursday posted, "Father who was hospitalised due to illness, is recovering well. He has been shifted to the ward and will return home soon."

Doctors studying risk factors

Though Kumaraswamy can return to routine activities in 2-3 days, doctors are studying the risk factors which caused the stroke, and accordingly take preventive measures. Dr Govindaiah Yatheesh, vice-president and unit head, Apollo Speciality Hospital, Jayanagar, said there is a high chance of recurrence in 33% of all stroke cases, and suggested modification in lifestyle by controlling high blood pressure and diabetes. Since Kumaraswamy had a valve replacement previously, he is more susceptible to stroke, and has been given blood thinners to prevent formation of blood clots, Dr Yatheesh explained.

FORMER US President Barack Obama and his wife Michelle and Tibetan religious head the Dalai Lama will visit Mandya in December to lay the foundation stone for an International Yoga and Meditation Centre at Hallegere village. The centre is built by Bhutayi Trust owned by US-based Dr Lakshminarasimha Murthy, father of US Surgeon General Dr Vivek Murthy.

A delegation consisting of Dr Lakshminarasimha Murthy, Agriculture and Mandya district minister N Chaluvarayaswamy, MLC Dinesh Guligowda and others met Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Thursday seeking assistance to provide facilities in Hallegere village such as helipad, road, drains, electricity, drinking water etc.

Responding positively, Siddaramaiah assured the State Government's cooperation. "I shall call for a meeting with officials concerned and discuss the matter," he added.

Dr Lakshminarasimha Murthy plans to construct the centre on 13 acres at Hallegere village at a cost of Rs 80 crore. His son Dr Vivek Murthy has served as the US Surgeon General under Obama, Donald Trump, and now under President Joe Biden.

Work for Congress in both TS, AP: Sonia to Sharmila

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

ENDING speculation that has rocked the political space in the Telugu states for the last four months, YSR Telangana Party chief YS Sharmila met former presidents of the All India Congress Committee, Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi, at their residence in New Delhi on Thursday.

Sharmila reached 10 Janpath along with her husband Anil Kumar and had a 45-minute meeting with the senior Congress leaders. While she evaded questions on the tie-up in an interaction with the media later, sources said the merger is in the offing and that the leaders discussed plans to strengthen the Congress in Telangana and Andhra Pradesh. While the YSRTP chief has earlier expressed her intention to contest from Palair in Khammam district, she has also sought the Secunderabad seat and another segment for her close followers.

According to sources, Sonia asked the YSRTP chief to work towards strengthening the Grand Old Party in both Telugu states. In response, close associates of Sharmila said she told the two leaders that her primary focus will be the Telangana Assembly elections, which are expected to take place in the first week of December, and would later visit Andhra Pradesh, where she will campaign for the Congress in the Lok Sabha and Assembly elections. Incidentally, her brother, YS Jagan Mohan Reddy, who is the president of YSRC, is the chief minister of AP.

Sharmila's meeting with the Gandhis has stirred a heated debate in the Telugu states as she and her mother have maintained a distance from Jagan, after he was arrested in a corruption case and booked by the CBI, following the death of former undivided AP CM YS Rajasekhara Reddy.

Sources close to Sharmila shared that she invited Sonia, Rahul and Priyanka to her residence in Lotus Pond, Hyderabad. The Gandhis are likely to visit Telangana in September, during which time they are also expected to release a manifesto for the polls.

Spot online dangers to stop cybercrime: Dayananda

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BENGALURU City Police Commissioner B Dayananda stressed the need to spot the dangers on social media to steer clear of cybercrimes.

He was addressing the students and delegates during the India Cyber Security Summit at Christ University on Thursday.

India, which has the largest youth population, is witnessing rapid technological progress, which has also resulted in a surge in cybercrimes, he said, adding it is therefore necessary for the youth to be vigilant about the prevalent online crimes. So far, 20,000 cyber-crime-related cases have been reported.

During the investigation as the case unfolds, factors like insecurity and mental health issues emerge which are exploited by criminals to trick the victims.

"Much of what circulates on social media is not necessarily reality," he said on the inaugural day of the two-day summit.

'Kids must be educated'

Former Director General of Police (DGP) and other participants addressed significant topics on cyber threats, challenges, and the governmental policies and strategies in place.

Deceiving humans does not require technical expertise, but it is rather simple, said P Ravindranath, DGP, Training, pointing out that those who are educated, including children, fall prey to the online traps. In cases of sextortion and rape, criminals often build trust before the crime, he said. Parents should be aware of their children's social media consumption and educate them to report any incidents, he advised.

Citing the Jamtara series, former DGP Amar Kumar Pandey said, "The series depicts only the surface of criminal activities, which actually is much deeper. It is important to report such cases to the police." He added that cybercrime cases have been on the rise since the pandemic because more free time has led to a jump in phone usage. "Hence, it is important to know that government websites offer anonymous complaint registration options so all issues can be resolved without disclosing the identity," he said.

SOME technical reasons prevented the regularisation of his services. In his condolence message to Venkatesh's son Mohith, Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre said, "The department will never forget his outstanding service." Environmentalist HP Mohan, who had recommended to the forest department to appoint Venkatesh as a sharpshooter, said, "It would be difficult to find a replacement to Venkatesh, who had saved hundreds of lives by darting rogue elephants in Alur and Sakleshpur taluks in Hassan district." Forest officials handed over a compensation cheque for Rs 15 lakh to his family members.

Rain deficit expected to take a toll of cane crop, sugar production

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE worry of water and rainfall deficit is not limited to farmers and the Karnataka government alone – it has now become a matter of concern for all states. The drought-like situation and water crisis in Karnataka and Maharashtra was discussed at the all-India meeting of cane and sugar commissioners in Delhi on Thursday. It was pointed out that due to a poor southwest monsoon, the area under cane cultivation has come down, which will impact the quality of sugarcane and sugar production.

Karnataka is the third largest sugar producer in India, after Uttar Pradesh and Maharashtra. Around 10 per cent of India's sugar demand is met by Karnataka. "This year, because of poor rainfall, there is already a 10-15 per cent deficit in cane production, which will increase if the situation continues. There will be a shortage of sugar production in the coming days and this could also lead to a rise in sugar prices," Karnataka officials present at the meeting, told TNIE.

According to farmers and officials from the Directorate of Sugarcane Development and Sugar, last year was a bumper year for cane farmers in the state. But now the area under cultivation has come down, so cane production and sugar yield will also come down.

Last year, the area under cultivation in Karnataka was 7.5 lakh hectares, and has reduced by one lakh hectares this year. While 705 lakh tonnes of cane was produced last year, this year's expectation is 520 lakh tonnes. Last year, yield per hectare was 94 tonnes, this year, it's expected be around 80 tonnes; 6.10 crore tonnes of cane was crushed last year, 4-5 crore tonnes is expected to be crushed this year. "Only in South Karnataka, planting of sugarcane happens twice a year – late July and October/ November. In the rest of India, planting is done in October/ November. These regions will also face deficit rainfall and poor power supply. Farmers who planted crops in July are seeing no growth, some are selling it as produce, instead of supplying it to crushing units, which will also have an impact on the sugar market," said an official.

HUBBALLI-ANKOLA LINE

Railways to submit new proposal

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Ministry of Railways informed the Karnataka High Court that it will submit a revised proposal for the Hubballi-Ankola Railway Line Project as per the recommendation made by the committee constituted by the National Board for Wildlife.

Recording the submission made by the Railways in the form of an affidavit, the division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice MGS Kamal disposed of a batch of PILs filed against the decision taken by the Karnataka State Board for Wildlife to go ahead with the project.

Expressing concern over the diversion of 595.64 hectares of forest land in Karwar, Yellapura and Dharwad divisions for the construction of a new Broad Gauge Railway line between Hubballi and Ankola, the petitioners have challenged the proposal.

In its affidavit, the Railways submitted that the committee was constituted by the National Board for Wildlife following the directions issued by the high court. The committee had directed the Railways to submit a revised proposal of the project in accordance with the recommendations made by it.

Dalit leader insults Hindu gods, sets off protests

KARWAR: Local Dalit leader Elisha Elaka Pati, self-proclaimed president of an organisation, Karnataka Dalit Rakshana Vedike, kicked off a storm in Uttara Kannada with blasphemous comments against Hindu gods and goddess. A video, allegedly of Pati's speech, has gone viral, evoking public anger and demands for his arrest. The video was shot while he was travelling in a car. Pati is heard using obscene language against gods Shiva, Brahma, Krishna and Rama. He also draws a comparison with Christ, and praises Christianity. "The followers of these Hindu gods now want to rule this country. Nehru, Rajiv Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi grew up like princes. What are Modi, Yogi and Vajpayee?" he said. People, including those from the Dalit community, are now demanding his arrest. "Who is he to abuse our gods and goddesses? Action must be initiated against him," said Maruti, who lodged a police complaint. Dalit community members disowned him, saying, "He is not a Dalit. We need to check whether he is a fake or real Dalit," said Shanta Waddar, another complainant.

Maiden flight to S'mogga takes off from KIA

BENGALURU: With 74 passengers on board, including former CM BS Yediyurappa, the maiden flight to Shivamogga landed at Kuvempu Airport on Thursday. The IndiGo flight, which took off at 9.47 am from Kempegowda International Airport, reached Kuvempu Airport at 10.44 am, 21 minutes before schedule. On landing, the aircraft -- an ATR 72-600, received a water cannon salute, with the passengers given a rousing welcome. The project was launched by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on February 27 this year. Yediyurappa, an eight-time MLA from Shikaripura in Shivamogga district, had laid the foundation stone for it on June 15, 2020. Meanwhile, in place of the scheduled take-off at 11.25 pm from Shivamogga to Bengaluru, the flight only left by 12 pm. In a statement, IndiGo said, "Shivamogga is the 79th domestic destination and 109th overall destination in the 6E network... This direct flight will enhance intrastate accessibility while connecting Shivamogga to key domestic and international destinations through Bengaluru."

FISCAL PRUDENCE A MUST, DIFFERENTIATE BETWEEN FREEBIES, WELFARISM

No political party would agree for curbs on freebies ahead of polls. Each of them wants it," said former Chief Justice N V Ramana last year while hearing a case against 'irrational freebies'. The matter concerns political parties engaging in competitive populism, raising questions about the State's economic health, voter manipulation and the threat to free and fair elections. The former CJI rightly remarked that "the model code of conduct comes into force only a few days ahead of the elections. But political parties indulge in it for four years". The election season is upon us. With five state elections and the Lok Sabha polls due in the next six months, parties vie with each other to woo the voters with free electricity and rations, direct money transfers, gas cylinders at reduced prices, etc. The Supreme Court has opined that a committee of experts should differentiate between freebies and welfare schemes.

Freebies are not new to Indian politics. It started in the Sixties in Tamil Nadu with then-CM Annadurai's promise of rice at ₹1 per Madras Measure (under a kilo). N T Rama Rao made a similar promise in Andhra Pradesh. Parties have previously offered rice, land, cash, sarees, bicycles, colour televisions and whatnot for votes. But a controversy erupted when the BJP objected to the AAP's promise of free electricity to Gujarat voters before the last Assembly elections. The BJP argued that parties must be cautious about promises when the states are reeling under a deficit of lakhs of crores of rupees. The opposition pointed out that the same deficit never stopped the Central government from rolling out a massive free ration scheme for millions or transferring cash into farmers' accounts. Amid such claims and counter-claims, the Congress went a step ahead by offering voters not one or two, but five and 10 guarantees in Karnataka and Himachal Pradesh, respectively, resulting in handsome electoral returns in both states.

Other parties are ready to emulate the Congress, and there is a no-holds-barred race to offer pre-poll sops. It is time for political parties and the Election Commission to lay down basic guidelines to distinguish between a welfare scheme and an irrational freebie. The handout culture to win votes must end. This would go a long way in improving the states' fiscal health, nurturing healthy democracy and helping build a better India.

SKILLED LABOUR, BUOYANT SERVICES GROWTH POINTS

The Indian economy grew by 7.8% in the April-June quarter of the current fiscal. It is the highest growth rate in the past year and will likely be the peak growth performance in FY24. The rest of the fiscal will probably see moderate growth led by softening consumption and rising inflation. At 7.8%, India continues to be the brightest bulb in the box, as major economies, including China, the US and Germany, are either witnessing a slowdown or growth contraction. Given the external headwinds from slowing global growth and the lagged impact of interest rate hikes, analysts aren't ruling out a downward revision of FY24 estimates of 6–6.5%. If it happens, it'll further upset India's ambitions to emerge as the world's third-largest economy.

While the headline Q1 growth print was in line with expectations, the sub-components of growth confirm that the recovery in economic activity is not yet broad-based. For one, the manufacturing sector needs to pack more wallop. Notwithstanding the decline in commodity prices, the gross value added of the sector barely grew. Although the services sector did well in increasing its percentage share of GDP from 62 last year to 66 now, the share of private consumption declined moderately. The economy needs sustained buoyancy in the services sector, but high inflation and interest rates could spoil the momentum. Above all, the flat growth in government expenditure, even as private investment was yet to see a complete turnaround, led to a 7.8% growth print, lower than the RBI's projected 8%.

Agreed that the government did the heavy lifting until now, and given the healthy balance sheets of corporates and banks, it might want to take a backseat. But until the private sector capex cycle kicks off, the Centre's capital expenditure must continue creating jobs and absorbing the large labour force. India's labour force participation rate has been declining steadily over the last 15 years, and one of the biggest challenges is to bring it up to speed and use the demographic advantage to improve productivity. To do so, we must create opportunities by setting up manufacturing capacities, growing the services sector, and upskilling the labour force. The growth upside will have to come through higher productivity, and the government must ensure that we achieve greater output for each unit of labour and capital, not just the headline growth number.

QUICK TAKE

TRILLION-DOLLAR METROPOLIS

Niti Ayog wants city-regions piloting India's future economic growth. A plan to take Metropolitan Mumbai Region's GDP to $1 trillion is afoot. Manufacturing, entertainment and finance can help Mumbai join the trillion-dollar-GDP club, which includes New York, Tokyo, Los Angeles, London and Shanghai. Waiting in the wings are India's smart cities evolving under the agglomeration economies model. It's doable given our working-age population's mighty urban migration—the means to higher GDP, income and purchasing power parity. But to kickstart things, the governments must at least now empower toothless local bodies to introduce city laws and taxes to improve urban infrastructure, including plugging potholes.

One questions what has happened in the 19 rounds of military-to-military talks between India's Army and the PLA

DISENGAGEMENT ON THE LAC ON WHOSE TERMS

MANISH TEWARI

Lawyer, MP, and former Union minister

During the debate on the no-confidence motion in Lok Sabha in the Parliament's monsoon session, I raised grave interrogatories qua the continuing transgression by China across the Line of Actual Control (LAC) that is now in its 42nd month running.

Since the speech was in Hindi with no concurrent voiceover in English on Sansad TV or any other channel that carried the intervention live, let me reproduce those questions for this column.

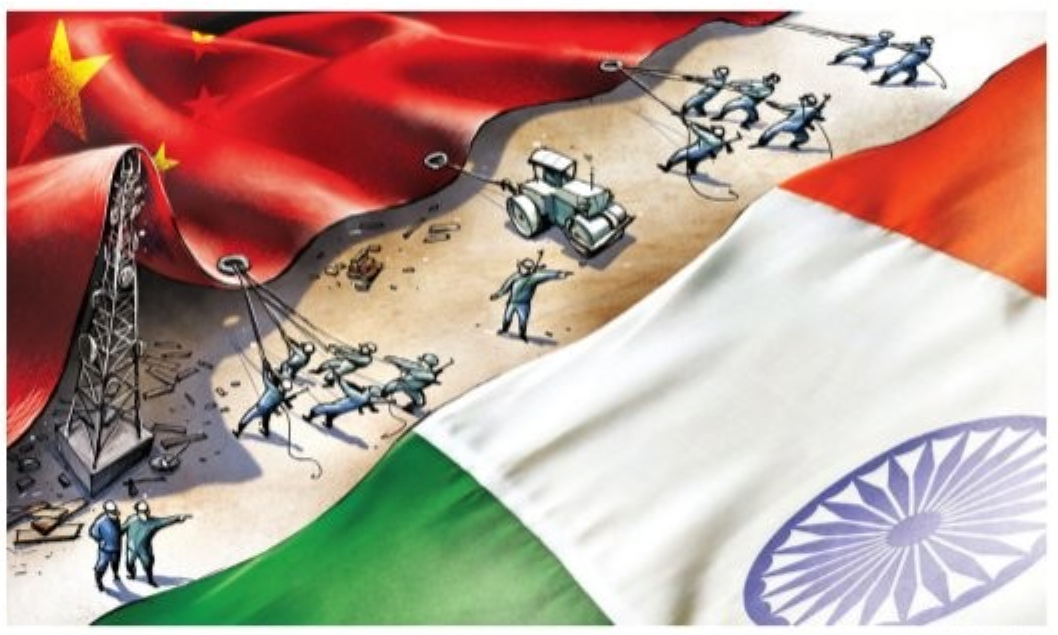
The first query: Given that 41 months have elapsed since the transgressions commenced in April 2020, has the government discerned the political and strategic intent of China behind the theatre-level incursions in Galwan Valley, north bank of Pangong Tso, Hot Springs, Gogra, Depsang Bulge, Gurung Hill, Requin La in Eastern Ladakh and Naku La in Sikkim?

The second question: Given a theatre-level incursion taking place across the LAC, was there a massive strategic and tactical intelligence failure in detecting such large-scale incursions?

This is especially germane given that in 2013, China's People's Liberation Army (PLA) crossed the LAC in Depsang. In 2014, incursions happened in Chumur when Xi Jinping was in Ahmedabad. The Doklam stand-off took place in 2017, and a distinguished Member of Parliament from Arunachal Pradesh, Tapir Gao, belonging to the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), flagged repeated Chinese incursions into his state in the Lok Sabha on November 19, 2019, and after that.

A claim that Tapir Gao reiterated to news website Scroll on June 25, 2020, ten days after the Galwan Valley clash which left 20 Indian Army personnel dead and scores more injured. In response to a question, "Can you be more specific about the areas you are referring to?" (Areas where Chinese encroachment in Arunachal Pradesh has taken place) Tapir Gao replied, "Asaphilla [located along the Line of Actual Control in the Upper Subansiri Division]; Andrella Valley, which is to the north of Anini in Dibang Valley; Chaglagam in Anjaw district."

The third question: Is it true, as articulated by a senior police officer in a paper written for the Conference of Director Generals/Inspector Generals of Police held in Delhi on January 21 and 22, 2023, that India has lost access to 26 out of the 65 Patrolling Points (PPs) on the LAC in Eastern Ladakh?



SOUMYADIP SINHA

The officer wrote, "Presently, there are 65 PPs starting from Karakoram pass to Chumur, which are to be patrolled regularly by the ISFs (Indian Security Forces). Out of 65 PPs, our presence is lost in 26 PPs (i.e. PP no. 5-17, 24-32, 37, 51, 52, 62) due to restrictive or no patrolling by the ISFs. Later on, China forces us to accept the fact that as such areas have not seen the presence of ISFs or civilians since long, the Chinese were present in these areas. This leads to a shift in the border under control of ISFs towards the Indian side and a 'buffer zone' is created in all such pockets, which ultimately leads to loss of control over these areas by India. This tactic of the PLA to grab land inch-by-inch is known as 'Salami Slicing'."

This is perhaps the most damning indictment of the spin the government has been attempting to peddle since April-May 2020, that things are under control. The paper shows facts are otherwise and the PLA's tactics of Salami Slicing—first denying access to the Indian Security Forces and then occupying it themselves—is unfortunately working to India's detriment.

A regrettable testimonial to this PLA tactic is how ISF patrolling on the north bank of Pangong Tso is now confined to Finger-4 unlike Finger-8 earlier.

The fourth question: What has happened in the 19 rounds of military-to-military talks between the Indian Army and the PLA? The 19th round was held on August 14, 2023.

The fifth question: What has been happening in the Working Mechanism for Consultation and Coordination on India-China border affairs (WMCC) since April 2020?

Recall that on September 10, 2020, the Indian External Affairs Minister met with his then-Chinese counterpart Wang Yi in Moscow and agreed to a five-point minutiae that inter-alia stated, "The two sides also agreed to continue to have dialogue and communication through the Special Representative mechanism on the India-China boundary question. They also agreed in this context that the Working Mechanism for Consultation and Coordination on India-China Border Affairs (WMCC) should also continue its meetings."

Earlier, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh met his then-Chinese counterpart Wei Fenghe in Moscow on September 4, 2020. Mark the location—Moscow. That is where the meetings took place and not in Washington DC, London, Brussels or any other Western capital.

The sixth question: Are all the buffer zones ostensibly created as a consequence of the disengagement process on the Indian side of the LAC?

The seventh question: Due to the creation of these buffer zones, has India lost 2,000 square kilometres of its territory along the LAC? Strategic affairs analyst Sushant Singh had this to say in his piece in the Frontline on February 9, 2023: "This is loss of Indian control over territory in border areas, estimated at around 2,000 square km by Manoj Joshi in his book Understanding the India-China Border: The Enduring Threat of War in High Himalayas."

The eighth and final question: In FY 2022, India's trade deficit qua China was $101.02 billion. India's imports from China in 2022 rose to $118.5 billion from $97.5 billion in 2021, while its exports declined from $28.1 billion in 2021 to $17.48 billion in 2022. Are we, therefore, subsidising China's aggression on us (India)?

Given the wide divergence between the Indian and Chinese readouts of the meeting between PM Narendra Modi and President Xi Jinping in Johannesburg, the questions above and below become even more critical: Disengagement on whose terms, India's or China's? Would the status quo ante in April 2020 along the LAC be restored? If the Chinese had not intruded into Indian territory as the government claimed in the all-party meeting post the Galwan incident, what is this disengagement all about? The nation awaits answers to the above questions. Answers that should have been voluntarily forthcoming in the prime minister's reply to the Lok Sabha on August 10, 2023.

VISIONARY APPROACH NEEDED OVER QUICK FIXES IN NEW MIGRANT LAW

NAVAS M KHADAR

Project Associate, GOI-SERB Project on Interstate Migrant Workers, Mahatma Gandhi University

DR BIJULAL M V

Principal Investigator, GOI-SERB. Assistant Professor, School of International Relations and Politics, Mahatma Gandhi University

Discussions on Kerala's proposed new act on migrant labour resurfaced in the context of the heinous crime of rape and murder of a five-year-old Bihar girl committed by a migrant worker in Aluva. However, there's a need to address a host of issues related to the insecurities concerning the social, cultural and economic lifeworlds of migrant workers, while also laying special emphasis on checking the tendencies of crime. A legal framework which enables social interventions and confidence-building measures to reduce violence and crime should direct the processes for creating a new legal regime.

The Inter-state Migrant Workmen Act of 1979 became effective nationwide in 1987. The Act defines "contractor" mainly as any person who hires labourers for his or her establishment work. But most labour suppliers in the construction sector remain uncovered and unregistered.

An inter-state migrant worker in Kerala is someone employed under a contract or arrangement with a contractor or principal employer. Government figures refer to the number of workers in certain welfare schemes. This data is just a small share of the actual number. The discrepancy stems from the outdated and inadequate definition within the law, which does not adequately address the contemporary labour arrangement processes, where the invisibility of the worker is the prominent reality.

The responsibilities of contractors vis-à-vis the registration of workers as per the Act have not been updated for the last four decades, during which migration patterns have evolved, with changes in the seasonal, cyclic and residential movements. Health and safety provisions for migrant workers are insufficient, especially during epidemics. Significant revisions are needed to address contemporary problems of migrant workers and ensure wage protection and welfare benefits, including health schemes.

The number of migrant workers in Kerala remains unclear, with varying reports doing the rounds. The Kerala labour department's RTI response to the columnists stated there are 5,16,000 migrant workers in the state, while the State Planning Board pegged it at 34 lakh. The writers, through their fieldwork, have identified a serious problem in the federal system, which leaves many migrant workers in a situation of statelessness. Essentially, this is the failure in portability of rights, when migrants move from their state of origin to another state for work. This requires special attention in the context of the proposed new law.

In Kerala, the governance of migrant labour laws is vested with the labour department. For better inclusivity, a three-tier, panchayat-wise decentralisation is desirable, but this is yet to materialise. Economically and socially, migrant workers are connected mostly to the local self-government bodies. The labour department needs to collaborate with local bodies to generate credible data. An inclusive and comprehensive migrant labour law demands decentralisation at the grassroots level.

Despite Kerala's development activities becoming increasingly dependent on migrant workers, their essential needs are unaddressed in governance-related dialogues

Lack of transparency regarding the allocation of financial resources for the welfare of migrants is a challenge to the federal system. Social auditing of schemes and healthcare funds is not conducted, and questions on the quantum and timing of Central government funds remain largely unaddressed by the public and media, remaining under the ambit of bureaucracy instead. Despite Kerala's development activities becoming increasingly dependent on migrant workers, their essential needs remain unaddressed in governance-related dialogues.

Sporadic instances of mob violence post the Aluva crime are part of a dangerous trend of mob attacks against migrant labourers. While an unruly mob was involved in Bihar native Rajesh Manchi's murder in Kozhikode a few months earlier, instances of lower-degree violence have been quite frequent since 2000. Recent reports from Perumbavoor in Kerala's Ernakulam district also show that the police deny migrant workers access to public places. Unfortunately, there is a tendency to blame the entire migrant community when it comes to issues related to alcohol, drugs and violence. Peaceful thinking is required to evolve better understandings and strategies.

The government, especially local self-government bodies, must take up the responsibility of curbing the spread of hatred and fostering friendly relations between the local populace and migrant workers. At present, there is a lack of clarity on the bodies' responsibilities concerning migrant workers. It is crucial for local governments to visit migrant worker settlements, understand their situations, and address their health concerns through specialised interventions. In this context, further discussion on the Kerala Health Bill, currently in its final stages, becomes essential to ensure the well-being and integration of migrant workers in the state.

To address the complexities of integration, the government must move beyond mere numerical enumeration and collect comprehensive theme-wise data to understand the diversity of the state's labour force. Inter-state governmental interventions should accompany measures for providing better services to migrant workers. But the outdated Inter-state Migrant Workmen Act lacks the provisions to facilitate such collaborations. A new policy must be formulated to bridge this gap effectively.

The entry of migrant workers without proper social security arrangements challenges the migrants' employment rights. Dialogues between migrant communities and the government can alleviate such issues and ensure mutual cooperation in projects.

Effective implementation of policies requires coordination among departments to conduct research on service, wages, workplace safety, and residential conditions. Managing the health and social security system through local self-government bodies will bolster the new law's impact. Proactive measures are necessary to uphold the migrants' civil rights and ensure a more inclusive and secure environment for all migrant workers in Kerala.

Evil ritual

It is bizarre that honour killings have not been defined as such and instead placed under 'murder'. Can it be more savage: in this 21st century, love between a boy and girl is considered a crime and youngsters are slaughtered through this ritual. The brutal issue of families carrying out honour killings has to be firmly dealt with.

LPG price

In both articles, 'LPG price cut leaves distributors in lurch' and 'OMCs may have to bear burden of LPG cylinder price cut' (Aug 31), the point that has been missed is the profits booked by companies and distributors when prices were rising. In my personal experience, I learned that distributors would cancel all pending bookings when the prices were hiked so they could bill at the new, increased rates. Consumers have been fleeced in such instances.

Kerala drought

Ref: Kerala must plan well to avoid drought (Aug 31). The concerns raised are quite right. Farmers are in dire straits. The dwindling tree population due to reckless construction activities is also one local factor behind the rising temperature and water bodies drying up. The Kerala government is more interested in constructions than in climate. This attitude needs to change urgently.

Kharge set to be INDIA convenor, key role for regional leaders

63 delegates from 28 parties attend the dinner meeting of the Opposition bloc in Mumbai to prepare common minimum agenda, committees for 2024 election

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

IN the Mumbai conclave of Opposition alliance, Congress strongly pitched for party president Mallikarjun Kharge as INDIA convenor to which other parties agreed in principle. They also pitched for constituting a 11-member panel comprising regional party leaders.

"Besides, there will be other region-wise and state-wise committees that will coordinate with each other. The strategy will be decided in such a fashion that there is no clash of party interest. We have to work very smoothly," said senior leader requesting anonymity.

The dinner meeting of INDIA bloc was held at Hotel Grand Hayat to prepare the common minimum agenda, name for convenor and various committees. The meeting was attended by 63 delegates of 28 political parties that included former Congress president Sonia Gandhi, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge, Rahul Gandhi, NCP chief Sharad Pawar and Uddhav Thackeray.

Bihar CM Nitish Kumar, RJD leader Lalu Prasad Yadav, West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee, Tamil Nadu CM M K Stalin, and Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal also attended the dinner.

Highly placed sources said in the meeting it was decided that INDIA has to take forward the agenda discussed in the Bengaluru meet with a clear vision.

"Congress pushed for Kharge as the convenor while other parties agreed in principle. They said regional parties are a major force in Opposition alliance, so equal importance should be given to them as well. The regional parties should have more representations and therefore a 11-member committee should be constituted where all prominent regional party leaders will be members.

"While the sub-committee such as draft committee for common minimum agenda should be constituted with people who understand policies, those from other minor parties should be given representation too. There will be other committees for elections strategy, resources funding, media, etc," said the senior leader.

He said in the Bengaluru meeting, the Opposition came out with INDIA as the name for the bloc that surprised the BJP and was a great success by itself. "We want to work out such things that will continue to surprise the BJP," he added.

INDIA bloc had planned to unveil the logo on Thursday, but was pushed to Friday as some partners had suggestions.

A senior Congress leader said the party has asked to incorporate the welfare schemes that clicked in Karnataka and Delhi elections. Tackling inflation, generating employment, farm loan waivers, financial aid to pooor women and special welfare for SC/STs are some promises that are part of the common minimum agenda.

Another leader said it was decided that contentious issues such as seat-sharing, fund-raising will be kept for last. "The Opposition leaders who always crossed swords have come at one dinner table thrice. A bonhomie has been created. We have to keep aside our ego, else 2024 Lok Sabha election will be the last election," he said.

KEY POINTS

ON AGENDA

- Mallikarjun Kharge as convenor
- Constitution of an 11-member committee with all prominent regional party leaders as members
- Sub-committees such as draft committee for common minimum agenda to be constituted with people who understand policies
- To give representation to minor parties, there will be other committees such as those for election strategy, resource funding, media management, etc

PROMISES

- Incorporate welfare scheme that clicked in Karnataka and Delhi elections
- Tackling inflation and generating employment
- Farm loan waivers, since there is a drought-like situation in many states
- Financial aid to poor women
- Special welfare for scheduled caste and scheduled tribes

Abhishek meets Rahul & Kejriwal to broker peace

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

TMC leader Abhishek Banerjee held meetings with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi and Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal in the capital ahead of the Mumbai conclave of the INDIA bloc, sources said. The meeting assumes significance as it is seen as an attempt to diffuse the rising tension between Congress and AAP, both important players in the Opposition bloc.

As the third meeting of the Opposition parties in Mumbai is expected to chart out a roadmap for 2024 election, the friction between both AAP and Congress is seen as a big challenge for the unity ahead, said a senior leader.

Trinamool sources told this paper that TMC national general secretary Abhishek Banerjee met both Kejriwal and Rahul as part of TMC's continuous effort to bring a truce between the two parties. West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee had played a key role in bringing the warring parties together after the first meeting of INDIA bloc in Patna in June this year.

AAP had threatened to boycott the Patna meeting if Congress does not support it on the Delhi ordinance issue. It was after the intervention of the TMC chief that both parties reached a consensus.

"Mamata's role in the bloc has become more important after the political crisis in Maharashtra. Whether it is the trust factor or negotiating power or good will, Mamata's role now assumes importance. The stand of Ajit Pawar and Sharad Pawar are very confusing for many people now," said the leader.

Though both the parties seemed to have struck truce after the Congress supported AAP in Parliament on opposing the Delhi Services Bill, fissures have emerged recently over alliances in Delhi and Punjab where both the parties are in contest with each other. They were engaged in a war of words over AAP's entry into Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan and Chhattisgarh, where Congress is a main player. However, opposition leaders maintain that differences will be sorted out.

Record August rain deficit to hit crops

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @New Delhi

THIS August was the driest and warmest month, with the highest number of dry spell days, in the recorded history of the Indian Meteorological Department (IMD) since 1901.

The rainfall deficit during August 2023 was so huge that even the normal rainfall forecasted for September cannot fill the gap. The deficit drags the Indian monsoon to the below normal mark this year, and will affect agriculture and the inflation-marred consumers in the country.

Rainfall in August was historically the lowest, hitting a deficit of -36%. This has led to an all-India deficit of -10% since June 1. In June, the deficit was -9%, followed by a surplus of +13% in July.

With just 162.7 mm rainfall, last month has officially become the driest August on record since 1901. It is nowhere closer to previous records of 190.1 mm in August 2005, 191.6 mm in August 1920 and 192.5 mm in August 2009. Even the central (164.5 mm) and southern peninsular (73.5 mm) regions of the country received the lowest rainfall since 1901.

According to the IMD scientists, the major reasons behind the driest August were the El Nino impact, unfavourable Madden Julian Oscillation (MJO) and lesser number of low pressure weather events.

Normally, there are 16.3 days of low pressure system in August. However, this time around, only nine low-pressure days were observed. These weather events gave 20 days of dry spell days in August, another record in the IMD history.

"We have observed a rise in dry spell days in August this year. The highest numbers of dry spell days were previously observed in 1979 and 2005," said Mrutyunjay Mohapatra, director general meteorology at IMD.

The lesser August rain would adversely impact the crop-sowing as well as the standing crops that require more water to sustain. It will lower yields of all kharif crops, including paddy. To control food inflation, India has already put an export ban on non-basmati and broken rice and imposed 20 per cent export duty on par-boiled rice.

One-third out of the total 36 sub-divisions in the country reportedly have deficit rainfall. This includes eastern Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh, Gangetic West Bengal, Kerala, Lakshadweep, southern interiors of Karnataka, Rayalaseema, Maharashtra and Marathwada.

While a good rainfall in July increased the kharif sowing, the scarce rainfall in August has put these sown crops under threat. Most of the rainfall under the 'very heavy' to 'heavy' categories in August took place in the northern and eastern parts of the country, which helped in increased crop-sowing. The IMD has predicted a normal monsoon in September.

Will he, won't he? Xi yet to confirm presence in G20, may send premier

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

WHILE the country's capital is gearing up to greet world leaders arriving to attend the G20 Summit from September 8-10, there seems to be an ambiguity regarding the attendance of Chinese President Xi Jingping in the summit.

There has been neither an official confirmation nor denial from the Chinese side on Xi's visit. With this, speculation is rife that his Premier Li Qiang may fill in for Xi.

Until now, Xi had attended all the G20 meetings that have happened during his tenure. Irrespective of the ambiguity, India is making preparations for his arrival, said sources.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi met Xi during the BRICS Summit in Johannesburg recently and talked about normalising the relationship. From the courtesies exchanged, it seemed that Xi is likely to attend the G20 Summit.

However, in the past few days, India and China have been involved in a diplomatic rebuttal after China brought out a Standard Map that included Aksai Chin and Arunachal Pradesh under its territories.

"China hasn't officially said that President Xi Jingping isn't coming to Delhi for the G20 Summit. However, if he does decide not to attend, it will send out a message that relations between India and China are still on a downward slide," Ashok K Kantha, former ambassador to China, told this newspaper.

Meanwhile, leaders including US President Joe Biden, British Prime Minister Rishi Sunak, German Chancellor Olaf Scholz, Saudi Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese, Japanese Prime Minister Fumio Kishida, Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and Saudi Crown Prince Salman are amongst the world leaders who have confirmed their in-person participation in the summit being conducted under India's presidency.

Earlier, Russian President Vladimir Putin had informed that he would not be able to make it for the G20 Summit as he was busy gearing up for a military operation. Russia's foreign minister Sergey Lavrov will travel to India on his behalf.

Putin had called up Prime Minister Modi and informed him about his inability to take part in the G20 Summit.

Jaya Verma Sinha takes charge as first woman chairperson of Railway Board

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Indian Railways on Thursday appointed Jaya Verma Sinha as the new chairman and chief executive officer of the Railway Board for a tenure that extends till August 31, 2024.

Sinha, who was previously the member of operations and business development in the railways, will assume charge on September 1. The incumbent chairman Anil Kumar Lahoti retires this month.

This is the first time that a woman officer of the Higher Administrative Grade-Plus rank has been designated as the chairman of the prime decision-making body of the national transporter.

The appointment of Sinha, who is an Indian Railway Management Services (IRMS) officer of the 1986 batch, as the next chairman of the Railway Board is being defined as a groundbreaking step by Railways towards women empowerment and equality.

This decision regarding Sinha's appointment was approved by the Centre. A notification was issued on Thursday by the Department of Personnel and Training in this regard. "The Appointments Committee of the Cabinet (ACC) has approved the appointment of Jaya Verma Sinha, Indian Railway Management Services (IRMS), Member (Operations & Business Development), Railway Board to the post of Chairman & Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Railway Board," an order read.

Sinha, an alumnus of the Allahabad University, joined the Indian Railway Traffic Service in 1988 and worked in Northern Railway, S E Railway and Eastern Railway. She is considered as one of the best officers of HAG+ grade because of her sharp professionalism and decision-making power. She is also called a very articulate and objective railway officer with a strong skill in professional ideation. She is credited with achieving targets related to overall transportation of freight and passengers.

She was at the centre stage of the Railways' media interactions recently when, as the member of operations and business development, she explained the complex signalling system after the tragic Balasore accident.

Prior to this posting, she had served as an additional member of traffic and transportation, when she was credited for railways crossing 1.5 billion mark of annual freight. She was also the first woman to be appointed as the principal chief operation manager of SE Railway and has worked as principal chief commercial manager of Northern Railway. She was railway advisor at the Indian High Commission in Dhaka.

10,000 e-buses to ensure last-mile connectivity

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

AIMING at improved last-mile connectivity, 10,000 electric-buses (e-buses) will be provided to 169 cities under the 'PM-eBus Sewa' in the next five-to-six month. The scheme will be based on a public-private partnership (PPP) model.

Speaking on the efforts made for 'urban transformation' since 2014, Union Minister for Housing and Urban Affairs (MoHUA) Hardeep Singh Puri said on Thursday that the Central government is going to procure air-conditioned buses soon under the scheme, which was recently approved by the Cabinet in order to augment city bus operations.

MoHUA secretary Manoj Joshi said that state governments are required to submit their proposals by September 30, for which the guidelines have already been issued.

The top official of the ministry further added that travelling on these electric buses would be a metro-like experience. The tickets for the e-buses would be available through an automatic fare system, he explained.

Green mobility

The scheme involves the Central and state governments as well as the service providers. Operators running these buses will be paid ₹20-40 per kilometre. The Union Cabinet approved the scheme earlier this month to enhance green mobility. According to the officials, the scheme will cost about ₹57,613 crore, of which ₹20,000 crore will be provided by the Central government and the remaining cost will be borne by the states.

According to the officials, the scheme will cost about ₹57,613 crore, of which ₹20,000 crore will be provided by the Central government and the remaining cost will be borne by the states. Priority will be given to the cities that don't have an organised bus service and the allocation will continue till 2037.

The scheme has two segments — augmenting city bus services in 169 cities and green urban mobility initiatives in 181 cities.

The e-buses will be made available in cities with a population between 3 lakh and 40 lakh. The scheme will support bus operations for a period of 10 years.

The housing and urban affairs minister said that under the scheme, cities will be responsible for running the bus services and making payments to bus operators.

On the occasion, he also released an e-book version of projects completed by the ministry in the last nine years.

Puri also highlighted the progress made under Sawachh Bharat Mission-Urban (SBM-U). The mission has led to a fourfold increase in waste processing from 18 per cent in 2014 to 75.20 per cent in 2023.

Segregation and door-to-door collection of municipal solid waste has also witnessed a remarkable increase as a result of efforts done under Sawachh Bharat Mission-Urban, said a ministry official.

A Maoist bunker containing a huge quantity of explosives was destroyed during a search operation days ahead of Dumri bypolls in Jharkhand's Giridih district, police said on Thursday.

CM says judiciary corrupt, draws flak

Ashok Gehlot says 'lawyers and judges often collaborate closely to influence verdicts'

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

SOME comments by Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot regarding the state of the Indian judicial system have ignited a fierce debate in the state. During his interaction with mediapersons in Jaipur, Gehlot said he believes that "corruption is rampant" in judiciary and alleged that "there are instances where lawyers draft judgments that are then read out by judges."

These remarks elicited significant political backlash, with the BJP accusing the chief minister of undermining the constitutional structure and the judiciary.

CP Joshi, BJP state president, responded strongly to Gehlot's statements, interpreting them as indicators of Gehlot's frustration and disappointment.

"A person in a constitutional role openly criticising the judiciary displays a lack of faith not only in the Constitution but also in the nation's judicial framework. This instance underscores his failure to effectively manage law and order in the state. Criticising the Constitution while occupying a constitutional position raises serious questions about his stance," he said.

The legal community in the state has mobilised against the chief minister. Former vice-president of the Bar Council of Rajasthan Yogendra Singh Tanwar has penned a formal complaint letter to the Chief Justice of the Rajasthan High Court.

"Gehlot's public allegations of widespread corruption within the judiciary have dealt a severe blow to its reputation. Such derogatory statements not only tarnish the judiciary's image but also disrupt the smooth functioning of the legal system," Tanwar stated

He urged the Chief Justice to treat the letter as a criminal complaint and investigate the matter.

Gehlot voiced concerns about the prevalence of corruption in the judiciary. "There are instances where lawyers draft judgments that are then read out by judges. What is happening within the judiciary? This issue plagues both lower and upper levels of the system, and it demands national contemplation," he said.

Furthermore, Gehlot referenced allegations made by BJP MLA Kailash Meghwal against Union Law Minister Arjun Ram Meghwal, asserting their validity. "Information has come to light indicating substantial corruption during Arjun Ram Meghwal's tenure as an IAS officer, which has been suppressed. Legal proceedings have been initiated to halt these claims," Gehlot said.

The CM's remarks have not only led to a political fracas but have also galvanised discussions around the state of the judiciary and its integrity. As the controversy unfolds, both political and legal circles are engaging in impassioned debates regarding the implications of Gehlot's assertions.

Graft in judiciary?

"There are instances where lawyers draft judgments that are then read out by judges. What is happening within the judiciary? This issue plagues both lower and upper levels of the system, and it demands national contemplation," CM Gehlot said while interacting with reporters.

BJP flays remark

"A person in a constitutional role openly criticising the judiciary displays a lack of faith not only in the Constitution but also in the nation's judicial framework. This instance underscores his failure to effectively manage law and order in the state," said CP Joshi, BJP state president.

Popular songwriter among 4 killed in Manipur gunbattle

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

A Kuki-Zo songwriter was among at least four persons killed in a fresh gunfight in Manipur. LS Mangboi Lhungdim (42), the lyricist, and two other Kuki-Zo tribals were injured in the gunbattle on Wednesday and taken to Churachandpur.

Later in the evening when the condition of Lhungdim deteriorated, he was being evacuated to Guwahati by road but he succumbed to his injuries on the way on Thursday morning. Another injured person succumbed to his injuries soon after.

The Indigenous Tribal Leaders' Forum (ITLF) said the duo suffered injuries in bomb attacks. Lhungdim was widely known among Kuki-Zo tribals in Manipur and adjoining Mizoram for the numerous songs that he composed.

Two more tribals died during the gunfight on Thursday while two other tribals were injured.

Reports suggested that one person died while four others were injured on the other side on Thursday. Officials did not confirm the reports. "I have no details. I am at the war zone," Bishnupur Superintendent of Police K Meghachandra told this newspaper.

The gunfight erupted on Tuesday morning when a Meitei farmer was injured after a bullet, allegedly fired by the Kukis, hit him.

An official of a security agency said the situation was highly tense. "The two sides are using sophisticated weapons, including mortars," the official said. It was learnt some journalists from Imphal, who went to cover the violence, were stranded somewhere as shots were being fired intermittently. The camera lens of one was hit by a bullet.

Stolen weapons

An official of a security agency said the situation was highly tense. "The two sides are using sophisticated weapons, including mortars," the official said. "Meitei militants have been pounding tribal areas with mortar shells stolen from police stations and armouries," the ITLF said.

It's Mama vs Chacha vs Dada as polls draw close

As polls draw close, politicians are using new nicknames for themselves to attract voters. While CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan is already famous among children as Mama (maternal uncle), Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal recently alluded to himself as Chacha. At an AAP rally in Satna district recently, Kejriwal, while accusing Mama (the MP CM) of cheating nieces and nephews, said it's the time to trust your Chacha (referring to himself) now. Just a day later, senior state Congress leader Bhupendra Gupta posted on social media, "Mama is a thug, while Chacha is a lootera (robber). Only Dada (Kamal Nath) can save your future and roots."

Video gives BJP ammo to alleged rift in MP Cong

A Sunderkand Path and Yajna organized at the state Congress headquarters in Bhopal recently, over CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan's statements about Hanuman temple and statue built by state Congress chief Kamal Nath in Chhindwara, has actually helped the ruling BJP in portraying that the media wing of the state Congress a divided lot. BJP spokespersons, including Narendra Saluja and Shivam Shukla (both were earlier with the Congress) posted on X, a short video of two state Congress spokesperson indulging in heated argument in the mid of religious event.

Journalist sparks row over Chandrayaan-3 post

A young woman journalist Kshama Tripathi, who joined the BJP recently in Bhopal, landed in controversy immediately after beginning her political innings on August 24. Tripathi, had made a facebook post on August 23, just a few hours after Chandrayan-3's historical landing on the moon. In the somewhat funny post, Tripathi had mentioned about 10,000 tonnes of water found on the moon and that the discovered water's would taste like the water offered to moon by women on the Karwa Chauth. Just a few hours after Tripathi joined the BJP, state Cong spokesperson Abbas Hafeez, said it belittling the religious faith of the Hindu women.

Mann does U-turn, tells HC will withdraw decision to dissolve panchayats

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

TAKING a U-turn, AAP-led Punjab government on Thursday in informed the Punjab and Haryana High Court that it would withdraw the notification to dissolve panchayats in the state. The U-turn has come a fortnight after its decision challenged in the court

Punjab Advocate-General Vinod Ghai, appearing before a bench headed by Chief Justice Ravi Shanker Jha and Justice Arun Palli, submitted that the notification would be withdrawn in the next couple of days and election would be held by the year-end.

A PIL filed by Gurjeet Singh Talwandi, a Shiromani Akali Dal general Secretary, had challenged the notification. In view of the AG's statement, the court has disposed of the PIL.

The government had received a lot of flak from Opposition parties Congress and Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) for its call to dissolve panchayats.

Hours after giving an assurance in the court, the Bhagwant Mann-led government on Thursday suspended two senior IAS officers overseeing the work of Department of Rural Development and Panchayat.

The suspension order of Dhirendra Kumar Tewari, Principal Secretary, Water Supply and Sanitation & Financial Commissioner-Rural Development and Panchayats, was issued by Chief Secretary.

Gurpreet Singh Khaira, Director Rural Development and Panchayats, is the other officer who has been suspended.

The decision to dissolve panchayats had caused embarrassment to the government after various panchayats knocked doors of the high court and the government found itself in a tight spot.

CHANDRAYAAN-3 LANDER's ILSA PAYLOAD DETECTS NATURAL PHENOMENA ON MOON

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

THE Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) found "a naturally occurring event on the Moon" on August 26, which could be a moonquake or meteoroid hitting the lunar surface that was recorded by Vikram lander's payload, say ISRO scientists. Meanwhile, the total data recorded through various payloads could be 60-100 GB, as per reports.

Speaking to TNIE, one of the scientists working on the Chandrayaan-3 mission said, "It was already estimated that the lunar surface witnesses 4-5 moonquakes a week, but we are yet to determine the source of this activity."

The Instrument for Lunar Seismic Activity (ILSA) payload on the Chandrayaan-3 lander is the first instance of a Micro Electro Mechanical Systems (MEMS) technology-based instrument on the Moon. It has recorded the vibrations occurring due to the movements of the rover and other payloads.

The scientist said with 100% accuracy, "The recorded event is not of the rover and its payloads. The instruments used have the capability of recording the most sensitive movements. Even if the rover is 15 metres away, it was able to measure its movement." He added that these are preliminary reports and further investigations will reveal the cause behind the natural movement.

The graph released by the space agency also shows ILSA's response to the rover movement on August 25, and its acceleration over time. Additionally, an event, seemingly natural, recorded on August 26, is also shown.

ILSA comprises a cluster of six high-sensitivity accelerometers, which are indigenously made using the Silicon Micromachining process.

In another finding, reconfirming the presence of sulphur on the south pole, the Alpha Particle X-ray Spectroscope (APXS) has detected the chemical and other minor elements on the lunar surface. "This finding compels scientists to develop fresh explanations for the source of Sulphur (S) in the area: intrinsic, volcanic, meteoritic or any other reason?" said ISRO on X. Earlier, Laser-induced Breakdown Spectroscope (LIBS) has confirmed the same.

RAMBHA finds plasma

The Radio Anatomy of Moon Bound Hypersensitive Ionosphere and Atmosphere - Langmuir Probe (RAMBHA-LP) payload has made groundbreaking measurements of the Moon's plasma environment at the south pole. The instrument has found the presence of plasma (the fourth state of matter after solid, liquid and gas) on the lunar surface in low intensity.

The space agency on X said, "The initial assessment indicates that the plasma near the lunar surface is relatively sparse." It added that these quantitative measurements potentially assist in mitigating the noise that lunar plasma introduces into radio wave communication. "They could contribute to the enhanced designs for upcoming lunar visitors," ISRO stated. Plasma is present in around 5 to 30 million electrons per cubic meter during lunar daytime.

The scientist said, "Plasma was estimated to be on the south pole, however, it's not too intense in quantity as was expected. Nonetheless, this data will help build stronger systems."

RAMBHA continues to work non-stop, observing changes in the plasma throughout the lunar day. These observations will help understand how the lunar surface charges, especially during solar space weather changes, according to ISRO.

'Rover frolicking on the Moon like a child'

The Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) on Thursday released a video of the Pragyaan rover making a 180-degree turn in search of a safe route on India's successful Chandrayaan-3 mission. The video was recorded on August 29. Taking to X (formerly Twitter), ISRO said, "The rover was rotated in search of a safe route. The rotation was captured by a Lander Imager Camera." The space agency quipped about the "rerouting as a child frolicking on Chandamama". "It feels as though a child is playfully frolicking in the yards of Chandamama, while the mother watches affectionately. Isn't it?" ISRO said in a statement on X. On August 27, Pragyaan was commanded to take a detour after it detected a 4-metre-diameter crater on the lunar surface to avoid any crashes and was set on a new path. ISRO said multiple rerouting of the rover has taken place so far.

Bihar to bar private coaching centres from holding classes in school hours

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

BIHAR government is set to issue new regulatory guidelines for private coaching institutes in the state. For the purpose, a draft has been prepared by the state education department, which will be sent for approval by the cabinet in its next meeting chaired by chief minister Nitish Kumar.

The draft has been uploaded on the official website of the state education department seeking suggestions from people. The people have been asked to send their opinion on the draft in a week's time after which it will be sent for cabinet's nod for implementation of the regulatory guidelines for private coaching institutes.

Once the draft gets cabinet seal, it will be implemented in the state. Under the new regulatory guidelines, the private coaching institutes will not run coaching classes during school hours (e.i 9 am to 4pm).

The violation of the regulatory guidelines will invite disciplinary action, including cancellation of their registration.

Under the new provisions, every coaching institute in the state has to register with the district administration concerned. The district magistrate will form a registration committee under his/her jurisdiction which will take a final decision on the applications submitted by the coaching institutes for registration.

The registration committee will look after all aspects, including infrastructure, basic facilities for students and other necessary amenities of particular coaching institutes. The registration department will accord registration to the coaching institutes on the basis of report of the registration committee.

Authoritative sources in the state education department said that the coaching institutes will have to submit their applications within 30 days from the date of regulatory guidelines implemented in the state. Besides, regulatory guidelines have made provisions for lodging of complaints by students as well.

As per the provisions, students can approach sub-divisional officers (SDOs) of the area concerned to lodge their complains against coaching institutes. The education department may cancel the license/registration of the coaching institutes after two-three complaints against them. If the department imposed any fine, the owners of the coaching institutes have to deposit the amount in six months.

New guidelines

- Private coaching institutes will not run classes during school hours (9 am to 4pm)
- The institutes will have to register with district administration concerned
- Committee to look after infrastructure and basic facilities for students
- Guidelines made for lodging of complaints by students as well

Centre to reply on Constitutional challenge: SC

THE CJI reassured him that the facts presented before the court would have no bearing on the constitutional issue regarding the reading down of Article 370. The constitutional challenge would have to be answered by the Centre on the same grounds and not by quoting statistics."These facts would have no bearing on the constitutional issue. This cannot be an answer to the constitutional challenge," Chandrachud said.

The top court in its last hearing had asked the Centre to provide a roadmap for restoration of statehood to J&K.

During the hearing, Attorney General R Venkataramani said the President could have abrogated Article 370 unilaterally but instead took the Legislative Assembly's recommendation.

Son of IAF officer from Tamil Nadu, Assam oncologist wins Magsaysay award

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

A seed planted in time inevitably sprouts and when it gets nourishment; it is bound to grow into a beautiful tree. That is exactly the story of this year's Magsaysay award winner, Dr Ravi Kannan, an oncologist and director of Assam's Cachar Cancer Hospital and Research Centre.

Son of retired Indian Air Force personnel from Tamil Nadu, he had just one goal in life – to become a doctor, one he pursued successfully.

"I remember my mother had set this goal for me when I was a child. She had seen her family physicians – Dr Natarajan, Dr MK Shanmugham and Dr NK Subramaniam. They were from my mother's hometown Kumbakonam in Tamil Nadu. She wanted to become a doctor too but her family circumstances did not permit her. So, she wanted her son to become a doctor. I had no other thought," Dr Kannan told this newspaper.

He was serving at a cancer institute in Chennai when Dr Chinmoy Chowdhury of the Cachar Cancer Hospital and Research Centre visited the hospital. "The hospital in Cachar was formed by laymen. Dr Chinmoy Chowdhury visited a number of cancer centers. He also visited us. Subsequently, he was in regular touch with me and wanted me to join the Cachar hospital," Dr Kannan said, recalling that bomb blasts and floods were common in Assam then.

He said his wife, Seethalakshmi, who was working with United States Education Foundation in India, initially objected to the offer but as the request to join the Assam hospital kept coming, the two of them paid a visit. He said that not just he, all 450 staff members at the hospital, people of the community and all those who supported him are winners of the Magsaysay award.

"I don't think any award is for one person. These awards recognise human collaboration and efforts. It is a team effort. Everybody is a hero," he said. Established in 1996, the hospital in southern Assam's Silchar has 141 beds. Dr Kannan joined it in 2007.

He said that patients are mostly from the southern part of the northeast, including Assam's Barak valley, Dima Hasao, Manipur and Tripura. Some also come from Bangladesh. "If you look at the registry data, the northeast has the highest incidence of cancer. Incidence is the number of new patients per hundred thousand of the population. The population of entire northeast region is less than five crore. But incidence-wise, it is much higher than many parts of the country. Mizoram has 250 incidences of cancer per one hundred thousand. The national average is less than 100," Dr Kannan said.

With eyes on China, US leads 7-nation war drills in Indonesia's East Java

JAKARTA

SOLDIERS from the United States, Indonesia and five other nations began annual training exercises on Thursday on Indonesia's main island of Java while China's increasing aggression is raising concern.

American and Indonesian soldiers have held the live-fire Super Garuda Shield drills since 2009, and Australia, Japan and Singapore joined last year. The UK and French forces are participating in this year's exercises, with 5,000 personnel.

China sees the expanded drills as a threat, accusing the US of building an Indo-Pacific alliance similar to NATO to limit China's growing influence in the region. Brunei, Brazil, Canada, Germany, India, Malaysia, Netherlands, New Zealand, Papua New Guinea, Philippines, South Korea, and East Timor also sent observers to the two-week exercises in Baluran, a coastal town in East Java province. The commanding general of US Army Pacific, General Charles Flynn, said the 19 nations involved in the training are a powerful demonstration of multilateral solidarity to safeguard a free and open Indo-Pacific region. AFP

Indian-American scientist to dive from the stratosphere

NEW YORK

AN Indian-American scientist, Swati Varshney, is one of the three skydivers who is set to prepare for the first-ever jump from the stratosphere by a woman hoping to break the world record.

Rising United, a non-profit organisation, that aims to inspire young women's participation in STEAM (science, technology, engineering, art and math) has chosen three young women explorers as part of their "Hera rising initiative" who will embark on the journey to jump from the stratosphere at an altitude of 42.5 km above the Earth.

Taking to X (formerly Twitter), the organisation said, "We're thrilled to introduce Hera Rising — a pioneering campaign for Female Equality and STEAM Education, featuring the FIRST EVER stratospheric jump by a woman!"

The other two finalists preparing to achieve this historic feat are Eliana Rodriquez of Columbian origin and Diana Valer'n Jim'nez of Costa Rican descent.

The three finalists will go under rigorous training for 18 months and only one of them will make the historic jump while the other two explorers will remain on the team for ground support and educational outreach, Space.com reported. The stratosphere is Earth's second layer of atmosphere which reaches a height of around 12 to 50 kilometers above the Earth's surface.

Swati Varshney

The temperature in the stratosphere reaches a minimum of roughly -80°C at the stratopause.

Swati, who has done a PhD in materials science from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in an interview with Space.com said that her career trajectory has been close to skydiving.

"I just did a tandem skydive as a thing... had an absolute blast. I felt really comfortable in freefall. It became this never-ending journey of another pursuit of knowledge that went alongside my academic career," she was quoted as saying. PTI

12 children among the dead, 61 injured; blaze at municipality-owned building turned into illegal housing unit

74 KILLED IN SOUTH AFRICA BUILDING FIRE

JOHANNESBURG

A fire that tore through a five-storey building taken over for illegal housing killed 74 people including 12 children in central Johannesburg overnight, South African authorities said on Thursday.

An additional 61 were injured and treated in hospital in one of the deadliest fires worldwide in recent years.

Bodies were discovered piled up at a security gate that was closed, preventing people from escaping the blaze, an official said.

Thembalethu Mpahlaza, the head of forensics services in Johannesburg's Gauteng province said a total of 74 bodies were recovered, 24 female, 40 male and 10 "burnt beyond recognition."

"We are having 12 children involved also in this tragedy," he told a press conference.

City authorities said the municipality-owned building in a deprived, crime-ridden area had been turned into illegal housing after being abandoned.

Rescuers combed the building floor by floor as firefighters damped down hotspots after putting out the flames.

"This is a great tragedy, felt by families whose loved ones perished in this terrible manner," South African President Cyril Ramaphosa said at an event in the southern city of Gqeberha. "Our hearts go out to every person who is affected by this disaster."

It was not immediately clear what caused the blaze. House fires are fairly common in the country, plagued by chronic power outages, where many live in poverty.

Authorities on Thursday said candles used for lighting inside the structure or stoves and other heating devices were a likely cause.

The building, which has been evacuated, is located in what used to be the business district of South Africa's economic hub and was used as an informal settlement by people squatting there illegally, authorities said.

Authorities estimated more than "80 shacks" were set up inside. "The fire spread very quickly, affecting different levels of the building, because of the combustible materials used," said Emergency Management Services spokesman Robert Mulaudzi on Thursday. AFP

Zelenskyy: Ukraine has developed long-range weapon

KYIV

UKRAINIAN President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said on Thursday his country has developed a weapon that hit a target 700 kilometres away, in an apparent reference to the previous day's strike on an airport in western Russia. Zelenskyy said on his Telegram channel the weapon was produced by Ukraine's Ministry of Strategic Industries but gave no other details. On Wednesday, a four-hour wave of drones that Moscow blamed on Ukraine hit an airport near Russia's border with Estonia and Latvia, damaging four Il-76 military transport planes. The airport is in Russia's Pskov region, which is about 700 kilometres north of the Ukrainian border. In all, six Russian regions were targeted in the barrage.

The Associated Press was unable to determine whether the drones were launched from Ukraine or inside Russia. Kyiv officials normally neither claim nor deny responsibility for attacks on Russian soil, though they sometimes refer obliquely to them.

Zelenskyy's remark was the clearest hint that Ukraine was behind the strike. The attack forced the closure of Pskov airport, though it reopened on Thursday, according to Russian transport officials. Another drone intercepted overnight near Moscow resulted in flight delays at several airports around the Russian capital, officials said on Thursday. No injuries were reported. Meanwhile, Turkey's foreign minister Hakan Fidan said on Thursday that reviving a deal to ship Ukrainian grain across the Black Sea was "critical" for food security. "We underlined its critical role for global food security and stability in the Black Sea," Turkish Foreign Minister Hakan Fidan said.

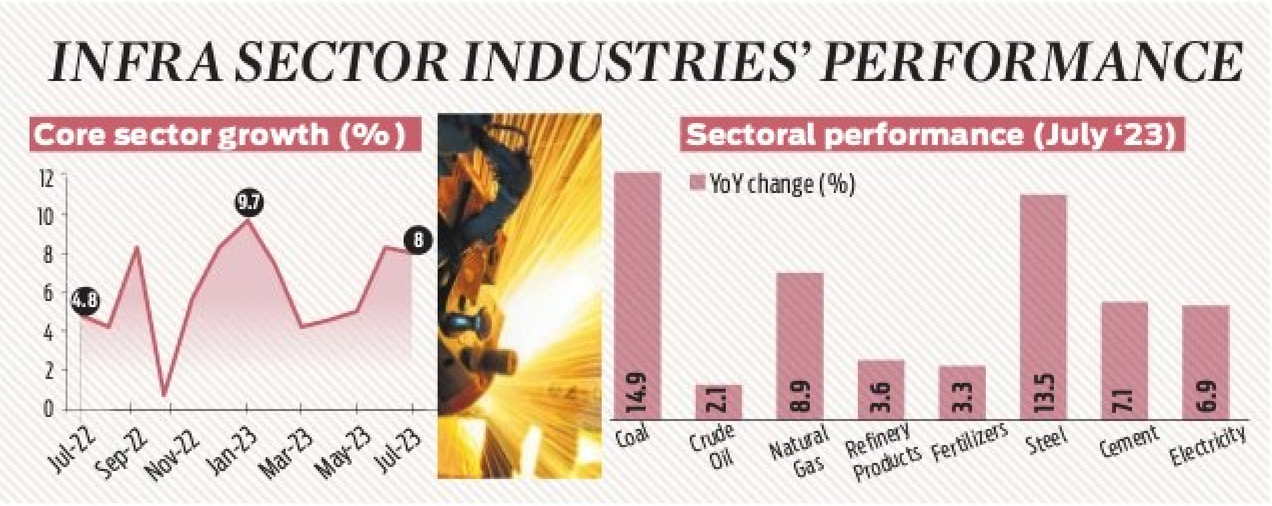
Core sector output rises 8% in July

In April-July, core sector sees 6.4% growth, fall from 11.5% rise in first 4 months of 2022-23

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi



THE country's eight core sectors -- coal, crude oil, steel, cement, electricity, fertilisers, refinery products, and natural gas – experienced a growth rate of 8% in July, as reported by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry on August 31.

Growth for the month of July is slightly lower than that of 8.3% in June. In July 2022, core sector growth stood at 4.8%.

From April to July period, core sector output recorded a growth of 6.4%, a decline from the 11.5% growth in the first four months of 2022-23.

The strong performance in the month of July was primarily driven by three sectors -- coal, natural gas, and steel. Coal production increased by 14.9% year-on-year, while natural gas production increased at a rate of 8.9%, more than double that of June. Steel production also experienced a double-digit growth, reaching 13.5%, albeit lower than June's 20.8% increase.

"The capital expenditure (capex) by the union and states (16 states representing more than 69% of all states capex) which increased by a strong 13.4% year-on-year to ₹67,963 crore in July 2023 provided succor to the steel and cement sectors," said Sunil Kumar Sinha, senior director and principal economist, and Paras Jasrai, senior analyst at India Ratings and Research.

These three sectors collectively account for over 35% of the combined index of the eight core industries.

However, the remaining five sectors continued to be a drag on overall output growth, except for crude oil and electricity, which showed signs of improvement.

The eight core industries comprise over 40% of the Index of Industrial Production (IIP). In June, India's industrial output grew by 3.7%, the lowest in three months. Data for August will be released on September 29.

Fiscal deficit jumps 80% to ₹6.1 lakh crore in April-July

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE central government's fiscal deficit in the first four months of the current financial year touched ₹6.1 lakh crore, an 80% jump over the same period last year.

Data released by the government on Thursday showed the fiscal deficit in the April-July period of the financial year has reached 34% of the full year target of ₹17.86 lakh crore.

The surge in the fiscal deficit is mainly on account of higher revenue and capital expenditure, and contraction in net tax collection.

Capital expenditures or expenses on infrastructure and other assets show a year-on-year increase of 52% to ₹3.2 lakh crore, while revenue expenditure increased at 15.5% to ₹10.6 lakh crore.

Net tax revenue of the Centre contracted by 13% to ₹5.8 lakh crore on account of front-loading of tax devolution to state governments. Tax devolved to state is 50% higher at ₹3.1 lakh crore as compared with the April-July period in the financial year 2022-23 (FY23).

The gross tax revenue growth also moderated in the April-July period to 2.84% at ₹8.95 lakh crore. Corporate tax collection declined by more than 10% year-on-year to ₹1.76 lakh crore, while personal income tax collection increased by a modest 6.4%. However, the central GST collections showed a healthy growth of 16.6% during the April-July period.

However, non-tax revenues doubled during the period on the back of higher than budgeted dividend surplus transfer of ₹87,400 crore from the Reserve Bank of India.

Fidelity marks up Meesho and Pine Labs valuation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

US-BASED asset management company Fidelity Investments has marked up the valuation of Meesho and Pine Labs.

It has raised Meesho's valuation by nearly 14%. Previously, it had slashed the fair value of Meesho by 9.7% in April, and reduced its valuation to $4.4 billion. According to its latest filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission dated July 31, Fidelity said its stake in the ecommerce company was worth about $43.24 million compared to $37.8 million in April. It marked up the fair value of its stake in Pine Labs at about $34.7 million, up 4.6%.

Baron Capital too marked up the valuation of Pine Labs. Recently, Meesho announced that it will onboard 10 million small businesses by 2027 and help them succeed online. This is a ten-fold expansion of Meesho's current seller base of 1.3 million.

According to a report by RedSeer, the country boasts an estimated 85 million MSMEs, yet only 1.5 million currently operate within the online sphere. Meesho recently became the first horizontal e-commerce company in India to achieve profitability. The ecommerce company achieved profitability at a consolidated PAT level, incorporating all costs, including ESOP, across all divisions and categories. Operating on a 0% commission model, backed by Marquee investors, including SoftBank, Prosus, Meta, B Capital and Elevation, the company has raised about $1.1 billion in funding till date. Jefferies in a note in April had said, Meesho, which is the third largest e-commerce retailer with a CY22 GMV of about $4.5 billion and a 7% market share, is growing much faster than the overall e-commerce market.

Adani Group rejects fresh allegations of stock price manipulation by OCCRP

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

ADANI GROUP on Thursday rejected the fresh allegations of stock price manipulation.

The Organised Crime and Corruption Reporting Project (OCCRP), a global network of investigative journalists, in a report has claimed massive investments were channeled into Adani Group stocks through opaque funds based in Mauritius. OCCRP has alleged that the promoter group family secretly invested in their own companies via close affiliates and bypassed the existing rules and regulations that prevent stock price manipulation.

Reacting to the allegations, Adani Group has said that the reports appear to be yet another concerted bid by 'Soros-funded interests' supported by a section of the foreign media to revive the meritless Hindenburg report. Soros is referred to George Soros, a Hungarian-American businessman, who has been critical of billionaire Adani Group and PM Narendra Modi-led government.

The port-to-power conglomerate said that the fresh claims are based on closed cases from a decade ago when the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) probed allegations of over invoicing, transfer of funds abroad, related party transactions and investments through foreign portfolio investors. It added that the matter attained finality in March 2023 when the Supreme Court ruled in their favour.

"Clearly, since there was no over-valuation, there is no relevance or foundation for these allegations on transfer of funds. Notably, these FPIs are already part of the investigation by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). As per the Expert Committee appointed by the Supreme Court, there is no evidence of any breach of the Minimum Public Shareholding (MPS) requirements or manipulation of stock prices," said Adani Group.

Most Adani Group stocks on Thursday fell by 2-5%. Shares of the Group companies are yet to recover from the allegations of stock price manipulation first raised by the US-based short seller Hindenburg Research in January this year. The stock rout once had erased more than half, or about $150 billion, of the combined market cap of 10 Adani companies.

OCCRP said that Nasser Ali Shaban Ahli of UAE and Chang Chung-Ling of Taiwan are individuals who spent years trading hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of Adani Group stock. The two men have close ties to the Adani family, including appearing as directors and shareholders in affiliated companies.

Rahul demands JPC probe into charges against Adani

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

CONGRESS Lok Sabha Member of Parliament Rahul Gandhi on Thursday reiterated his demand for a joint parliamentary committee (JPC) probe into Gautam Adani and its alleged $1 billion money trails through shell companies and two foreign nationals.

The Congress MP attacked Prime Minister Narendra Modi for protecting Adani and his brother Vinod Adani despite several revelations of their murky business deals and share price manipulation.

Gandhi said the Prime Minister should come clean on the issue, and conduct a JPC probe into the allegations that Adani family associates invested hundreds of millions via Mauritius-based obscure investment funds. "The news reports by two prominent financial newspapers revealed that the institutions used to route money from India to foreign and back in India and inflate the share prices to buy ports and airports and several other assets in India and outside. These newspapers have raised pertinent questions. This is a serious matter. They have got all the documents and emails and proof. Why is PM Narendra Modi quiet on this matter? Why the central agencies like CBI and ED are not probing this?" he asked. When asked if there are differences of opinion over demand of JPC, he clarified that there are no differences among India partners on the JPC probe as Adani is a national issue.

He also said there are two foreign nationals -- Nasir Ali Shaban Ahli from the UAE and Chang Chung Ling from China -- who are close associates of Vinod Adani. "How is a Chinese man linked to Adani? It is clearly a security risk and should be probed," he said.

Crude oil import from Russia falls 20% in August

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

THE country's crude import in August tumbled by 120 thousand per barrel a day (kbd) to 4.45 million a barrel per day (mbd) on account of a dip in import from Russia, according to London-based market intelligence provider Vortexa.

In August 2023, import from Russia was lowest in the past seven months as crude imports from the country fell by 440kbd to 1.63 mbd. It had imported 2.1 mbpd from Russia in July 2023. "India's crude imports in July reached a three-month high of 4.58 mbd. Strong domestic and exported crude oil demand had buoyed refiners to operate at high utilisation that month. In August 2023, lower crude imports from Russia saw the country's total imports retreating. At least two refineries have shut down for planned maintenance, and several more scheduled over this quarter and next," said Serena Huang, analyst at Vortexa.

August imports from Russia lowest in 7 months

In August 2023, import from Russia was lowest in the past seven months as crude imports from the country fell by 440kbd to 1.63 mbd. It had imported 2.1 mbpd from Russia in July 2023. It is believed the reason for drop in imports from Russia is depleting discount. India's crude imports from Saudi Arabia rebounded by 60% month-on-month in August

It is believed that the reason for drop in imports from Russia is depleting discount. Earlier an official from one of India's oil marketing companies had said the discount on Russian oil fell drastically from up to $15 a barrel to $5 a barrel. India is titling towards its traditional suppliers, and as per the Vortexa data, India's crude imports from Saudi Arabia rebounded by 60% month-on-month to 840 kbd in August 2023.

"India's imports of Russian crude were down 440kbd in August to 1.63mbd, and discounts on Russian Urals against dated Brent have narrowed on FOB basis. Given higher dated Brent prices in recent weeks, this means that Russian Urals is now likely more expensive when sold on a DES basis to Indian refiners," said Serene Huang, an analyst at Vortexa.

Recently, Russia announced voluntary output cuts of 500,000 barrels a day in August and 300,000 barrels a day in September, mainly of Urals grade, according to Russian officials. Experts believe India's import of Russian oil could now be in September too as refiners plan maintenance at their plants. Also, Russian crude prices are above the $60-a-barrel ceiling imposed by western countries.

Jio Financial shares to be removed from BSE indices on Sept 1

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

JIO FINANCIAL SERVICES (JFS), the demerged financial services unit of Mukesh Ambani-led Reliance Industries, will be removed from all the S&P BSE Indices, including Sensex, on September 1.

The stock was slated to be dropped from the indices on August 24 but its removal was postponed to August 29. The bourses twice extended the removal of JFSL shares from the indices after the shares hit lower circuit for four consecutive session post listing.

However, shares of JFS rose 5% to touch their upper circuit limit on the stock exchanges on Thursday. The scrip commanded a market capitalisation of ₹1.47 lakh crore on Thursday against ₹1.68 lakh crore on the day of its listing. Asia Index, a joint venture between BSE and S&P Dow Jones Indices, noted that JFSL did not hit the lower circuit on August 29 and August 30.

If JFSL had hit the lower circuit on the third day, August 31, the removal of JFSL from all the S&P BSE Indices would have been postponed.

JFS rises 5% to hit upper circuit limit

Shares of JFS rose 5% to touch their upper circuit limit on exchanges on Thursday. Asia Index noted JFSL did not hit lower circuit on August 29 and August 30. If JFSL had hit lower circuit on August 31, removal of JFSL from all S&P BSE Indices would have been postponed

"In order to provide certainty to clients, the Index Committee has determined that a 2 pm IST cut-off time will be applied for the lower circuit limit assessment. If JFSL does not hit the lower circuit before the cut-off time, the company will be dropped from all the S&P BSE Indices effective prior to the opening of trading on Friday, September 1," said BSE in a circular on Thursday.

However, the stock will not be out of the NSE on Friday. A stock has to trade without hitting the lower circuit in two out of three trading sessions to get removed from the NSE index. On the NSE, shares of JFS were also at 5% upper circuit limit at ₹231.25 apiece.

Jio Financial Services was added to key indices on July 20 for a temporary period, to give passive and active funds holding RIL stock, an opportunity to trade in the demerged entity. It was added at a constant price of ₹261.8, which was derived through a special pre-open session conducted by the exchanges on RIL stock.

JFS shares were listed at ₹265 per share on the Bombay Stock Exchange and ₹262 per share on the National Stock Exchange against the discovered price of ₹261.85 apiece.

Amazon to use Gen-AI tool to help small businesses

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

AMAZON INDIA on Thursday announced that it will introduce a generative AI based personal digital assistant called Amazon SahAI. It will provide personalised assistance to new and existing sellers on its marketplace.

The personal assistant provides customised support to sellers on Amazon.in and reduces their workload by simplifying time-consuming and complex steps such as registration, listing, advertising support amongst others, Amazon said.

It has also signed an MoU with India Post to simplify cross border logistics for MSME exporters and also with Indian Railways for faster deliveries of seller orders to customers.

"We are excited about the growth and the long-term potential in the Indian market and the opportunity to serve millions of consumers and sellers in India. We had recently announced an incremental investment of $15 billion in India across all our businesses by 2030 and will continue to be a partner in India's growth," said Amit Agarwal, SVP India & Emerging Markets, Amazon.

He shared the company's future outlook in India at the fourth edition of Amazon Smbhav Summit on Thursday. It opened its logistics and supply chain capabilities to direct-to-consumer (D2C) brands across India via multi-channel fulfilment capabilities.

ONDC to disrupt four key industries

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

THE Open Network for Digital Commerce (ONDC) is poised to disrupt four key industries -- financial services, manufacturing, retail and ecommerce, and agriculture.

According to a whitepaper titled 'Commerce@Bharat: Redefining business models and supply chain', released by Deloitte, ONDC can support the country's aspiration to elevate manufacturing sectors' GDP share from 16-17% to 25%.

In the financial services industry, by digitising SME data and expanding banks' customer experience horizons, the ONDC ecosystem opens new avenues of commerce. The report said with the increasing significance of online sales, the retail ecosystem can use ONDC for streamlined interactions within the supply chain and with end users.

In the case of the Agriculture industry, with the potential to revolutionise technology adoption in the agricultural landscape, ONDC can unite buyers and sellers across the network. India's e-commerce sector is projected to reach a value of $350 billion by 2030.

ONDC seeks to democratise the e-commerce landscape in the nation. Currently, e-commerce contributes just about 4.3% to the retail commerce sector in India. "ONDC is a remarkable opportunity for India's economy spanning diverse industries," said Sathish Gopalaiah, President, Consulting, Deloitte South Asia.

"With a unique proposition built around agility, security and profitability at the same time, ONDC streamlines value chains, bridges gaps, and endorses innovation, paving the way for the next generation to explore novel paths," he added.

McGahey set to become first transgender to play int'l cricket

Danielle McGahey of Canada will become the first transgender cricketer to play in an international match when she represents her adopted country next month in a regional qualifying tournament for the 2024 Women's T20 World Cup in Bangladesh. The 29-year-old, an opening batter, was selected after she fulfilled ICC's eligibility criteria.

Neeraj second in Zurich

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

THE pressure was definitely off. The gold at the World Championships in Budapest would have soothed the nerves and it was evident at the pre-event drills when Olympic and world champ Neeraj Chopra was seen sharing a joke or a banter or two with fellow athletes and world champions at Zurich DL. He was seen chatting with high jump world champion Gianmarco Tamberi of Italy and 1500m world champ Josh Kerr of Great Britain during a pre-event briefing. Neeraj spent most of the time travelling to Zurich from Budapest had had a very short period to recover and compete, yet he competed with his usual fervor. Neeraj's usual competitors are Grenada's Anderson Peters, who is recovering from injury, Czech Jakub Vadlejch who is heading the DL points table and Julian Weber, who missed the podium. The hangover of the worlds was visible in the results. Neeraj opened with a modest 80.79m. He powered to come back with a 85.22m and stood behind Vadlejch who had a best of 85.86m in the same fourth round. Neeraj, who doesn't like to leave it late managed 85.71m in his last throw and finished second. Weber was third.

Where the wicketkeeper will bat throws new challenge ahead of Pakistan clash

ISHAN TALKING POINT BEFORE MARQUEE TIE

FIROZ MIRZA
Express @ Asia Cup
PALLEKELE

THE touchdown in Colombo was smooth but after a ride into the beautiful heart of the island the weather was humid with temperature hovering around 27-28 degree Celsius in the evening. There was sporadic rainfall too. The forecast for the week is not encouraging, but in the India camp perhaps the discussion would not be about the weather. Ishan Kishan and where he would feature in the team could be the central point.

The wicketkeeper-batter, as of now, looks set to feature in the playing XI when India take on arch-rivals Pakistan in their Asia Cup opener on Saturday at the Pallekele International Cricket Stadium in Sri Lanka.

With the first-choice keeper KL Rahul out for at least first two matches and reserve gloveman Sanju Samsonn not being in the squad of 17, the 25-year-old left-hand batter from Jharkhand remains the only choice in the role for the team management. But more than him playing the match, it's his batting order that is a topic of discussion ahead of the marquee clash. Kishan slammed three consecutive half-centuries (52, 55, 77) in the previous three-match ODI series against West Indies. Incidentally, he has been most successful with the willow while opening the innings as 425 of his 694 runs in 17 ODIs so far have come batting at the top of the order. He has scored three half-centuries and a double ton (210) in six innings he has opened the batting for India in the 50-over format.

Situation at the continental showpiece event, however, is entirely different from the last series where the regular opener and India skipper Rohit Sharma came down the order in the first match and was rested for the next two. The other two positions Kishan had played at so far are No 3 and 4. He had scored 163 runs at the average of 40.75 at No 3 in four matches while his average at No 4 is 21.20 as he could manage only 106 runs from six matches till date at that position. Given his past performances, it would be more apt if he plays as an opener. But for that to happen, either Rohit or Shubman Gill has to bat down the order which may force Virat Kohli to bat at No 4. Even India captain Rohit, while announcing the squad, emphasised on having a flexible batting order. "One thing I want in this team is to make sure everyone is okay to bat anywhere. That's one thing we need to keep in mind. You need flexibility, guys who can step up at any position. No one should say, 'I'm good at this position or I'm good at that position'. You want guys to be able to bat anywhere, that's the message conveyed to every individual. Not now, but over the last three-four years," he had said.

If not as an opener, Ishan can also come in at No 3 instead of Kohli. His numbers at that position might not be as impressive as an opener but it's better than his showing at No 4 where his average drops considerably. Besides, he has never batted at No 5 or below. If they manage to reach the final, India can at maximum play six matches at the Asia Cup. The event will be followed by three ODI series against Australia before the World Cup begins. This means the management has a maximum of nine matches to finalise team combination and batting positions.

Rohit Sharma (L) and Rahul Dravid will have a big call to make for Ishan Kishan

HOSTS POST BIG VICTORY

PALLEKELE: Sri Lanka slayed Bangladesh by five wickets in their Asia Cup opener here. Pacer Matheesha Pathirana's 4 for 32 restricted Bangladesh to 164. The home side then chased down the target with five wickets and 11 overs to spare. Brief scores: B'desh 164 in 42.4 ovs (N Hossain Shanto 89; M Pathirana 4/32) lost to SL 165/5 in 39 ovs (C Asalanka 62, S Samarawickrama 54).

Pak's last Asia Cup hero walks down memory lane

FIROZ MIRZA @Kandy

PAKISTAN pacer Aizaz Cheema was the toast of the nation more than a decade ago when his last-over heroics helped Misbah-ul-Haq-led side to lift the 2012 Asia Cup. It was the second continental title for Pakistan and had come after 12 years. Incidentally, it was also the last time Pakistan managed to clinch the coveted trophy.

With Bangladesh needing nine off the last over, Misbah threw the ball to Cheema. Defending a paltry 236, the visitors had managed to stretch the match to the final over but recognised batter Mahmudullah was still at the crease giving hosts an edge. "By 47th over, I realised I would have to bowl the last over as others had finished their quotas. I was happy and confident when I was given the ball," Cheema told this daily from Lahore remembering the final. The fast bowler, who made his international debut only six months ago at the age of 31 varied his pace to fox the batters to make sure his team won the final by a thin margin of two runs. "The plan was to confuse batters and keep them guessing. Mahmudullah was still there but I never had even an iota of doubt over Pakistan winning the match. I had already picked the wickets of Shakib ul Hasan and Mushfiqur Rahim and I knew I could stop Bangladesh from crossing the line," added Cheema.

Ironically, Cheema could play only one ODI after his gutsy death bowling in the Asia Cup final and never returned to the side. "I still don't know the reason. I played domestic cricket for almost eight years after getting dropped. Eventually, in 2020 I decided to retire as I was turning 40 and delve into cricket coaching," said Cheema, who is working as a specialist coach with Lahore team these days.

Aizaz Cheema

He, however, is happy with what he achieved as an international cricketer and termed Asia Cup final as his fondest memories along with Test debut. Interestingly, even before the match-winning performance, Cheema had a chance to represent the country at the cricket's biggest tournament, the ODI World Cup, scheduled to be co-hosted by India, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka in 2011. He was included in the group of propbables selected for the blue-riband event. As luck would have it, he missed the berth when the list was pruned closer to the tournament. "Playing in the World Cup for your country that too in India could have been a dream come true moment but that didn't happen. I was disappointed not to make it to the final squad but was also happy with my progress as I at least found a place in the list of probables."

It has been more than 11 years since Pakistan won their last Asia Cup with Cheema playing a key role. The pacer, however, believes the Babar Azam-led side has a good chance to add a third continental title to their trophy cabinet.

Pragg's WC experience and mantra to success

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

INDIAN Grandmaster R Praggnanandhaa is deeply moved with the love and affection showered on him by the chess fraternity and the fans across the world for winning a silver medal at the 2023 World Cup at Baku. Pragg, as he is affectionately called, insists that he takes one tournament at a time and believes that the silver medal will propel him to do well at the Candidates. In an interview with this daily, Pragg talks about things he needs to improve, Indian chess and importance of food. Excerpts...

Did you ever expect to be playing against Magnus Carlsen in the final?
It was unexpected, but after some time (beating Nakamura) I thought I could make it.

Did you expect this final to go till the tie-breaker?
Yes, it was expected because almost both (Carlsen and me) of us got tired at one point.

What happened in the final tie-breaker?
Carlsen has played in many tie-breakers and had won them and thus he had got more experience in it. In the first game there was a chance to win, but I made a few mistakes so I couldn't make it.

But you had already beaten Carlsen before and in tie-breakers, you are good, so did you not believe that you could beat Carlsen?
Carlsen is the best player in the world in any format. So it is not easy to beat him that too in a final. Even though it was tie-breaker, only if Carlsen made a mistake or if his calculations went wrong, one stood a chance to beat him. Carlsen is the best player in the world. It was a learning experience to play against the legend in the final.

What does one need to improve in order to win against Carlsen?
I'm improving myself and everyone's improving as well. One should be strong at everything be it openings, middle game and end game. I believe that a little bit more effort should be done in my opening game.

How was your experience in this World cup?
Overall, it was pretty good. My mother was there with me for moral support. Plus, the wishes from one and all during the tournament was touching.

While facing Arjun Erigaisi, you lost in the first game, then you won the second and the tie-breaks. How was your experience?
This format should be played compulsorily without any chance. in the first game, I lost my tactics, but in the second I won and even tie-breaks I was winning back to back. At last I won in a blitz game. It was a big relief.

How about the semifinals where you beat player of the class of Fabiano Caruana?
It was a good experience to play against Fabiano and win. But I was bit tired (before the game). The thing (trick) was to recover from the previous match, that was the key.

After Vishy Anand, you're going to be the second Indian to play the Candidates. Your thoughts...
Qualifying for the Candidates is a tough deal. For me qualifying during the World Cup was a big moment. I need to work hard for the event next year.

How are your preps for the Candidates going to be?
I will be thinking about it (Candidates) after the month of November.

Many players have trainers when they travel for tournaments. Who was your trainer for this World Cup?
My mom was with me and Ramesh sir trained me online.

You played at Baku in the World Cup and then went to Germany for the rapid team event, next you will be in Kolkata for Tata Chess event. How do you manage to adapt yourself to different time zones and prepare for different opponents?
I try to play and relax as much as I can. Resting is the main thing. When you play across different time zones, you need to be calm and composed, so I ensure that I get good rest.

RB Ramesh said that he wants to make you much more fitter as at times, your energy levels drop due to constant chess?
At one point everyone gets tired because we are playing tournaments continuously for nearly one month. There will back-to-back matches to play, because of that everyone gets tired. But, yes I am keen to improve my fitness.

You're going to be on more tours from now on. How are you going to adapt yourself to the sudden volume of travel? You're particular about home-made food, so how are you going to adapt?
Generally, I'm okay with every food. Food is important to stay healthy and in turn, have a healthy mind. But before matches, I prefer to have Indian food.

Viacom18 captures TV and digital rights till 2028

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

Viacom 18 has acquired both TV and digital rights of BCCI's international and domestic matches for the 2023-2028 cycle. The Indian Cricket Board announced this on Thursday. Up against Disney Star, the rights holders for the previous cycle from 2018-23, and Sony Sports, Viacom 18 won the bid with a cumulative figure of ₹5,963 crores. Disney Star and Sony's bids remain undisclosed.

With BCCI listing 88 international matches as a part of the cycle, Viacom 18 will pay approximately ₹67.8 crore per match, about ₹7.8 crore higher than the amount Star India had paid the BCCI in the previous cycle for 102 international matches. The rights will come into effect from India's three-match home series against Australia starting on September 22 and ending on March 31, 2028.

A rising trend in digital viewership saw a reflection in the e-bidding process as Viacom 18 spent ₹3101 crore in the digital category and ₹2862 crore for television rights.

With this, Viacom 18 has earned the third cricket broadcasting property from BCCI. In June, a subsidiary of Reliance Industries won the digital rights of the Indian Premier League (IPL) for ₹23,758 crore spanning from 2023 to 27. Earlier this year, Viacom 18 also bagged the linear and digital rights for the Women's Premier League with a payment of ₹951 crore for the same cycle. Disney Star still holds both broadcast and digital rights for both men's and women's global events through the end of 2027. BCCI secretary Jay Shah congratulated Viacom 18 on the occasion and thanked the other participants as well. "I extend my heartfelt congratulations to Viacom18 for emerging successful in the e-auction, and I express my sincere gratitude to all the bidders who participated in this process," he said in a media release. And added, "Today's e-auction has propelled BCCI into the upper echelons of per-match media rights valuation, marking a monumental stride in our journey."

Shah also thanked Star India, the rights holders for the previous cycle, via X (previously Twitter) saying, "Also a big thank you to @starindia @DisneyPlusHS for your support over the years. You played a key role in making India Cricket reach its fans across the globe."

It's a dream come true: Wozniacki after Rd 2 win

AGENCIES @New York

CAROLINE Wozniacki's fairytale return to Grand Slam tennis carried her into the third round of the US Open on Wednesday as the former world number one upset 11th seed Petra Kvitova in straight sets.

Wozniacki, who only returned to tennis in August after retiring following the Australian Open in 2020 to start a family, booked her place in the last 32 with a 7-5, 7-6 (5) victory over the Czech Republic's Kvitova.

"It's a dream come true. If you'd asked me three years ago I'd have said, 'I'll never be back here playing on this court.' But to be back and to beat to the World No 11 feels very, very special," an elated Wozniacki said after the match.

ALBANIAN Armando Sadiku shrugged off his poor form to inspire Mohun Bagan to a come-from-behind 2-1 win over FC Goa in the Durand Cup semifinal here.

The win paved the way for a fairytale Durand Cup finale on 'Super Sunday' as it set up Mohun Bagan's derby showdown against arch-rivals East Bengal in a repeat of 2004 final. A compact and defence-heavy FC Goa drew the first blood with their Moroccan midfielder Noah Sadaoui's 23rd minute strike.

Mohun Bagan took the penalty route to restore parity with Jason Cumming scoring from the spot in the 42nd minute.
